

Record

Class of
Eighteen Hundred and Ninety Three
Princeton University.
1908

Class LB4604

Book 1893d

PRESENTED BY

Photographed by Rose, Princeton, N. J.

CLASS OF '93, JUNE 6TH, 1903

Princeton University, Class of 1893

THE
QUIN-DECENNIAL RECORD
OF THE
CLASS OF '93

OF

Princeton University

EDITED BY

THE QUIN-DECENNIAL COMMITTEE

8
, , ,
, , ,
, , ,
8

JUNE, 1908

L D 4604
1893d

Gift
Author

29

PREFACE

“ Not what we sing or what we say
Can make us dearer to each other ;
We love the singer and his lay,
But love as well the silent brother.”

Owing to the fact that the last six months have been for most of us hard ones financially, the Committee in charge of the Quin-Decennial Reunion has not felt justified in making a lavish expenditure on the “Record,” and have, therefore, limited it to a directory of living members with a few vital statistics and a short biographical sketch with photograph of each deceased member.

Modest as the record is, it has the unique distinction of being the first ever issued by a Class graduated from Princeton, or any other university, so far as we can ascertain, in which every member and ex-member is accounted for, even though an ex-member was not with us for a longer period than a few days.

The Committee is indebted to Mr. Duffield, the Treasurer of the University, for assistance in tracing the addresses of some of the ex-members, to the relatives of the deceased who have kindly supplied biographical notes, and to “Tark” for the introduction.

GARDINER H. MILLER, Chairman,
JAMES H. BRITTON,
HAROLD G. MURRAY,
ALEXANDER C. PROUDFIT,
JAMES S. ROGERS,
GEORGE C. FRASER. Secretary.

INTRODUCTION

This book is to be a compilation of statistics : cold, concise and business-like. There is to be no nonsense about it. That is what Big Murray says ; he warns us not to be frivolous, and the Committee indicate that horse-play is undesired. We are too old (the official persons declare), and if we don't know it, these records will serve to instruct us upon the point—reminding us how unbecoming is the attempted mirth of senility.

The introduction will, therefore, conform with the Committee's something-more-than-hint, although I had hoped to be permitted some ease of the fireside familiar in this writing. I dare not risk it, nor (under cold instruction) dare their suspecting any of us still to possess the smallest measure of youth and un-dignity.

Saith the Committee :

“ I am old.

“ We are old.

“ Thou art old.

“ You are old.

“ He, she and it is old. “ They are old.

“ Everybody is old.

“ So, for heaven's sake try to seem respectable ! ”

Those of us who have attained to years of penetration will derive one consolation from the official attitude : it seems to indicate that we aren't even yet so old that our mere unqualified age is in itself a sufficient proof of respectability. Can it be true that we are still young enough for those stern spirits of the Committee to suspect us of coltishness?

Had I not been warned I should have liked to dawdle a little with jocose “personalities,” to sentimentalize a little, and to gossip more. I should have liked to sketch some meetings I have had with various semi-ruinous relics of '93, in the course of recent mild wanderings at home and abroad : I should have liked to muse upon these poor old things (once so proud in the vicious beauty of their youth) telling you of their transformations, of their present well-deserved decrepitude—and of their queer and pleasant resemblances to the boys we used to know.

For instance, I should have liked to write of Billy Guild, and how you really wouldn't see much change in serious, smiling Billy. You, whose hair has waned and set might envy him. The fact is, you wouldn't think Billy a day older than when you put him through the car-window. (I allude to a custom prevalent at an institution once officially known as "The College of New Jersey." It is said that upon final departure into the wide, wide world the student is not allowed to enter the train in the usual manner.) Billy and I sat by a log fire one day, last November down in Tennessee, and he told me what quiet, peaceable folk all Tennesseans are. He stuck to it, even when our talk, a little later, brought out the fact that he had had the misfortune the preceding week to lose a client in a little difficulty which also caused the demise of two other citizens of the county. That was mighty like our old Billy!

This is the way I should have liked to "just run on"—writing, perhaps, of a drive with another Billy—Bill Barkley, along a shell road on the Gulf Coast, one Sunday afternoon last winter, and of the rubicund children Bill pointed out as his: even his youngest-looking fit for the rush-line already. And perhaps I should have told you of the fat man, rosy and merry, with a white waistcoat full of laughter, a fat man freshly gloved, boutoniered, and a thing of fashion always—the said fat man strolling down the Via Veneto in Rome: there encountered by your present scribe. To show you how profoundly Jesse Carter has altered, I will tell you that if you shouldn't have my luck—when he is in Rome—and should fail to meet him on the street, you may be sure of finding him at the Cosmopolis Club (a pretty gay little club, comrades!) at five every afternoon! And that is mighty unlike our Jesse!

And of Eddie Palmer. Eh! messieurs! there is a change! One glimpse of that grave and bespectacled presence in its grim offices in Louisville would give you the profundity of transformation's possibilities. Doctor and Professor, holding the Chair his father held before him, a lecturer with the mien of a Doge, calm, inquisitorial, of Olympian aloofness and serenity, I found him; nought betraying him we knew. Could but those students who sit awed, tremulously noting each word that falls from his lips, behold a vision of the past, the Eddie Palmer of a Glee-Club trip. . . . That thought would come: however, the Committee will probably blue-pencil it out, and even if they shouldn't no copy of this book is likely to fall into the hands of Doctor Palmer's pupils.

And of a pair of elderly gentlemen in Boston, named Remsen and Brown, and how they gave a lunch that began at noon and ended with the aged Brown's walking to Brookline after the last car had gone. And of a chance meeting with Mr. Irving Brokaw in Paris, how he exhibited his thirty-five Mercedes to my envious eye, and explained (in that same "Why-deedn't you" voice) its virtues and his own as chauffeur and went his way, a-honking. And how Kep Hall and Harrison Daniels, Esq., get along with each other and Dayton; and how Dan once went with me to see a play of mine that was failing, and in his loyalty to a classmate, offered such a conspicuous demonstration of approval that the sentiment of the audience was obviously divided; it couldn't tell which it disliked more: Dan or the play.

But all manner of the like mere gossip being denied me, as tinged with, edging upon, and pertaining unto a levity of mind unwholesome and unnatural at this advanced period of life, I must get down to the solid business of introducing this book to you. And, after all, the Committee is right thus far: fifteen years out of college is no joke!

How old are we, really? Our unmarried certainly are "old-bachelors," and the undergraduate would not deny the term "old grad" to the youngest of us. And yet if one of us were President of the United States, he'd be called very young indeed. We are even young to be United States Senators: too young, I believe these statistics will prove, unless Park Davis has accrued to the Senate Chamber this spring. Let us, then, think of ourselves as in the "younger middle-age," the fighting time of life, the age when men are in the thick of it, with the smoke not yet enough cleared away to see how their lines stand the fire. It is now that we are making our records—and they will be permanent. In a very little while we won't be able to alter them, and can only look back upon them with sorrow or content for the things we do now in these years that whiz by so much faster than years ought to.

From one point of view a man's age is defined by the direction of his interests, and when they center entirely in his college we know how old he is; for that was our age fifteen years ago. While his interests principally weave themselves about young persons of the opposite sex, surely he is still a boy, be he ever so old a bachelor, and that was our age until we were married. Then, through the hard fighting-time, while he struggles harder than his children may struggle less, we call him middle-aged. When this has passed, I think he must be just about the age of his grandchildren.

So we go our ways. The old enthusiasms are tempered; we express them with the mildness, even with that peculiar absent-mindedness which comes to men who are "raising families." Yet do none of us forget the tie that is between us, and even in this fighting-time we remember that we march onward in COMPANY: and the outward sign of that ever-existent companionship is this book where we are enrolled.

Accept it, not-yet-venerable men! Divested of levity and appropriately, nay, mathematically serious as you will find it, there are some old pictures in it for you, and a music of other days. Here and there it will bring up to you a boy's laughing face; or you may find yourself, by some magic, lying prone before Old North on the campus in the shadows of a June morning; you may hear yourself go singing with old young comrades through M'Cosh walk; a half-forgotten cry may ring again in your ears—perhaps it will be, "HELLO-O-O SNAKE A-A-ANDREWS!"

And so I think very few of us will turn the following pages without emotion. We are too busy and too practical, I hear, for much chanting of

". Wild with all regret,
O Death in Life, the days that are no more!"

And probably very few of us, given the choice by a fairy godmother, would elect to "change back" into undergraduate life again. But think what a good and glorious life it was! We grow away from it, farther and farther, with the flying years. We mustn't get too far: to lose it quite would be a loss indeed, and irreparable to the loser.

Then come and take the steps once more for a little while. (Herb. Rogers, give us the key.) And as the other classes gather under the elms and stretch themselves on the grass to listen in the spring moonlight, let's begin with "Annie Lisle." Vale!

B. T.

DIRECTORY

NOTE.—Where two addresses are given the first is the business one, the second the residence.

The letters following a name indicate the degree or degrees received from Princeton. When a degree has been received from some other institution of learning, the initials of the University conferring the degree are placed in parenthesis before the initials of the degree.

In the case of those who spent only a part of the four years with us, the time of leaving or joining the class is given.

Andrew, Abram Piatt, Jr., A.B., (H.) A.M., Ph.D.,

Assistant Professor of Economics, Harvard University,
10 Russell Hall, Cambridge, Mass.

UNMARRIED.

Entered class, 1890.

Angell, Charles Hart, A.B.,

Assistant Actuary, Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Company,
413 Main Street, Springfield, Mass.
41 High Street, Springfield, Mass.

MARRIED, October 10, 1900, Miss Jessie F. Speer.

CHILDREN: July 13, 1901, Irving J. and Theodore F. (twins).

Baird, Edgar Wright,

Manufacturer,
1515 Sansom Street, Philadelphia, Pa.
Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia, Pa.

MARRIED, April 15, 1896, Miss Mabel Rogers.

CHILDREN: April 5, 1897, Edgar W., Jr.; October 27, 1898, Gainor
Owen; July 1, 1900, Marian Wister.

Baker, H. B.,

Builder,
156 Fifth Avenue, New York City.
8 West Fifty-seventh Street, New York City.

MARRIED, November 19, 1898, Virginia Lee.

CHILDREN: July 10, 1900, H. Martyn.

Entered class, 1890.

Left class, 1892.

Baker, William Osborn, B.A., A.M.,

Clergyman,

Trinity Rectory, Haverhill, Mass.

28 Mount Vernon Street, Haverhill, Mass.

MARRIED, August 3, 1899, Miss Elizabeth Jackson.

CHILDREN: May 15, 1900, Charles Carroll; Oct. 6, 1906, Mary Osborn.

Barkley, William J., C.E.,

Sugar Merchant and Planter,

219 North Peters Street, New Orleans, La.

1745 Prytania Street, New Orleans, La.

MARRIED, January 24, 1899, Miss Minnie Norton Buckner.

CHILDREN: November 12, 1900, Minnie Buckner; November 30, 1901, John, Jr.; November 27, 1903, Newton Buckner.

Barnett, Charles A.,

Lawyer,

2203 Farmers' Bank Building, Pittsburg, Pa.

Beaver, Beaver County, Pa.

MARRIED, December 2, 1905, Miss Lucy Kurtz.

CHILDREN: September 27, 1906, Nancy Catherine.

Entered class, 1889.

Left class, 1889.

Beach, Horatio S., A.B.,

Clergyman,

R. F. D. No. 2, Marshallville, Kan.

MARRIED, December 14, 1897, Miss Lydia A. Carstens.

CHILDREN: June 5, 1899, Kenneth Clancy; January 3, 1901, Dorothy Carstens; February 21, 1903, Neal Meredith; October 17, 1905, Leslie McKnight.

Beatty, Lee Clark, A.B.,

Lawyer,

420 Frick Building, Pittsburg, Pa.

1422 Nixon Street, Allegheny, Pa.

UNMARRIED.

POLITICAL OFFICES HELD: Assistant City Solicitor of Allegheny, Pa., 1906-1907; City Solicitor of Allegheny, Pa., 1907; Assistant City Solicitor of Pittsburg, Pa., 1908.

Entered class, 1890.

Betts, Hobart Dominick, E.E.,

Electrical Manufacturer,

299 Broadway, New York City.

264 West Fifty-seventh Street, New York City.

MARRIED, June 11, 1903, Miss Josephine Gould.

CHILDREN: June, 1904, Hobart D., Jr.

Beveridge, James, A.B.,

Manufacturer of Specialties in Leather and Iron,
95 Chambers Street, New York City.
255 West Ninety-seventh Street, New York City.

MARRIED, October 10, 1900, Miss Anna Preston Lamb.

Bigler, A. B.,

Mining,
Santa Maria, Cal.

MARRIED, and has two children.

Entered class, 1889.
Left class, 1890.

Bigler, A. W.,

Coal Operator.
Clearfield, Pa.

UNMARRIED.

Entered class, 1889.
Left class, 1891.

Bigler, G. R.,

Lawyer,
Clearfield, Pa.

MARRIED.

Entered class, 1889.
Left class, 1890.

Black, James D., A.B., E.E., (C.) LL.B.,

Farming,
Jobstown, N. J.

UNMARRIED.

Bogue, Hamilton B., Jr., A.B., (N. W. Univ.) LL.B.,

Real Estate Broker,
820 Tribune Building, Chicago, Ill.
4841 Madison Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

UNMARRIED.

Borcherling, Frederick A., A.B.,

Lawyer,
810 Broad Street, Newark, N. J.
19 James Street, Newark, N. J.

MARRIED, May 28, 1901, Miss Frances H. Gummere.

Boynton, Charles Edward, A.B., (P. & S.) M.D.,

Physician,
203-204 Peters Building, Atlanta, Ga.
707 Piedmont Avenue, Atlanta, Ga.

MARRIED, December 19, 1899, Miss Estelle Pattillo.

CHILDREN: Oct. 8, 1900, Charles E., Jr.; Oct. 3, 1906, Estelle Pattillo.

Brewster, Eugene V.,

Lawyer,
26 Court Street Brooklyn, N. Y.
83 Midwood Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

MARRIED, May 10, 1893, Miss Emilie C. Churbuck.

CHILDREN: February 21, 1895, Ruth; April 14, 1898, Eugene Raphael;
September 17, 1900, Marie Theresa.
Entered Princeton, 1889.
Left Princeton, 1890.

Bridges, Henry W., A.B., (N. Y. L.) LL.B.,

Lawyer,
41 Wall Street, New York City.
103 East Twenty-ninth Street, New York City.

UNMARRIED.

Britton, James H.,

Silk Manufacturer,
487 Broadway, New York City.
Cumberland, Md.

UNMARRIED.

Entered class, 1889.
Left class, 1891.

Brokaw, Irving, A.B., (N. Y. L.) LL.B.,

Lawyer,
985 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

MARRIED, February 4, 1903, Miss Lucile Nave.

CHILDREN: Dec. 11, 1903, Lucile Barbara; May 25, 1906, Mignon Elvira.

Brown, Irving Swan,

No occupation.
Worcester, Mass.

MARRIED, September 10, 1896, Miss Blanche Albertson.

CHILDREN: May 1, 1898, Frances Clayton.

Entered class, 1889.
Left class, 1891.

Brown, Kenneth, A.B., M.A.,

Minister,
Dawson, N. Mex.

MARRIED, November 19, 1897, Miss Frances Wolverton.

CHILDREN: January 11, 1901, Kenneth, Jr.

Brown, W. Harman, Jr., (U. S. N. Y.) LL.B.,

Treasurer,
176 Federal Street, Boston, Mass.
359 Tappan Street, Brookline, Mass.

MARRIED, October 7, 1897, Miss Joan Nott Howe.

CHILDREN: October 31, 1899, W. Harman 3d; September 8, 1903, Abbott
Harman; December 30, 1905, Joan Harman.

Entered class, 1889.
Left class, 1892.

Bryan, R. Shepard, (Wash. Univ.) M.D.,

Physician,
Century Building, St. Louis, Mo.
Missouri Athletic Club.
UNMARRIED.

Buchanan, Joseph Hervey, A.B., M.D.,

Physician,
43 Duer Street, Plainfield, N. J.
MARRIED, February 17, 1898, Miss Lidie S. Collom.
CHILDREN: December 27, 1899, Mary Collom.

Buckley, Richard Vaux, A.B., (U. of P.) LL.B.,

Lawyer,
460 Drexel Building, Philadelphia, Pa.
1508 Spruce Street, Philadelphia, Pa.
UNMARRIED.

Buist, Archibald Johnston, A.B., (Med. C. of S. C.) M.D.,

Physician,
276 Meeting Street, Charleston, S. C.
MARRIED, December 19, 1899, Miss Alice S. Mitchell.
CHILDREN: July 25, 1905, Archibald J., Jr.

Byers, Isaac Wingerd, A.B.,

Lawyer,
Iron River, Mich.
MARRIED, July 23, 1893, Miss Dora Rosenback.
CHILDREN: May 13, 1894, Anna Frederika; March 4, 1900, Judith Elizabeth; December 19, 1905, Benjamin F.
POLITICAL OFFICES HELD: Circuit Court Commr.; Probate Judge.

Cameron, James Daniel, A.B., A.M.,

Clergyman,
Corinth, N. Y.
MARRIED, November 15, 1899, Miss Jessie Fremont Mackenzie.
CHILDREN: September 6, 1900, Donald Kenzie.

Carpenter, Charles U., A.B.,

President Herring-Hall-Marvin Safe Co.,
400 Broadway, New York City.
120 Riverside Drive, New York City.
MARRIED, November 20, 1895, Miss Lillian Hynson.
CHILDREN: October, 1896, Kathryn Lee.

Carter, Jesse Benedict, A.B., A.M. (Halle) Ph.D.,

Director American School of Classical Studies,
Via Vicenza, 5, Rome, Italy.
MARRIED, January 22, 1902, Miss Kate Benedict Freeman.
Entered class, 1890.

Cary, Luther H.,

Publisher,
14 Beacon Street, Boston, Mass.
13 Eaton Court, Wellesley Hills, Mass.
MARRIED.
CHILDREN: Rose, James, William, Charles.
Entered class, 1889.
Left class, 1891.

Case, George Warren, Jr., A.B.,

Lawyer,
25 Broad Street, New York City.
65 West Fifty-fourth Street, New York City.
MARRIED, November 23, 1898, Miss Mary Anderson.
CHILDREN: November 10, 1905, Anderson.

Chandler, Jefferson Paul, A.B.,

Lawyer,
407 L. A. Trust Building, Los Angeles, Cal.
715 West Twenty-eighth Street, Los Angeles, Cal.
MARRIED, June 1, 1904, Miss Elizabeth Shankland.

Chapin, Thomas Christy, C.E.,

Salesman,
181 Gibbs Street, Newton Centre, Mass.
MARRIED, June 14, 1899, Miss Annie Howard.
CHILDREN: April 6, 1900, Ruth; January 8, 1902, Barbara; July 30, 1905, Helen Spring; December 3, 1906, Constance; March 25, 1908, Thomas Christy, Jr.

Gilley, Arthur Hutchins, A.B., (P. & S.) M.D.,

Physician,
138 East Thirty-seventh Street, New York City.
MARRIED, July 9, 1900, Miss Anna Richardson Hollis.
CHILDREN: September 1, 1907, John Kelly 2d.

Clausen, Henry P. A.,

Real Estate Broker and Trustee,
11 Regent Street, Brookline, Mass.
MARRIED, June 12, 1894, Miss Bertha Rueter.
CHILDREN: October 5, 1895, Frances Marie.
Entered class, 1890.
Left class, 1892.

Clay, Woodford, A.B.,

Breeder of Thoroughbred Horses,
Paris, Ky.
UNMARRIED.

Cochran, Samuel, A.B., (C.) M.D.,

Medical Missionary,
Hwai Yuen, China (via Nanking).
MARRIED, May 10, 1899, Miss Margaret King Watts.
CHILDREN: May 1, 1900, Margaret Watts; September 4, 1903, Lois;
June 6, 1907, William Watts.
Entered class, 1890.

Condict, Walter Halsted, A.B.,

Lawyer,
15 Exchange Place, Jersey City, N. J.
130 Jewett Avenue, Jersey City, N. J.
MARRIED, December 30, 1903, Miss Anna Hamilton Yeaman.
CHILDREN: March 12, 1907, Yeaman Halsted.

Conover, Edward F.,

Dealer in Electrical Supplies,
Morristown, N. J.
Bayard Lane, Princeton, N. J.
UNMARRIED.
Left class, 1891.

Crago, Thomas S., A.B., (W. C.) A.B.,

Lawyer,
Waynesburg, Pa.
West Franklin Street, Waynesburg, Pa.
MARRIED, October 27, 1897, Miss Margaret L. Hoge.
CHILDREN: February 3, 1902, Leah Abigail; June 24, 1903, John Hughes;
April, 1907, Ruth Constance.
Entered class, 1892.

Daniels, Harrison Roberts, A.B.,

Secretary, The Pinneo & Daniels Co.,
Care of Pinneo & Daniels Co., Dayton, Ohio.
424 West First Street, Dayton, Ohio.
MARRIED, April 6, 1898, Miss Mary Pierce Davies.
CHILDREN: September 10, 1900, Samuel Davies; August 12, 1902, Harrison Roberts, Jr.

Davidson, W. R.,

Wholesale Grocer,
218 Market Street, Steubenville, Ohio.
511 North Fourth Street, Steubenville, Ohio.
UNMARRIED.

Davis, Henry S.,

Lawyer,
110 Columbia Heights, Brooklyn, N. Y.
MARRIED.
POLITICAL OFFICES HELD: Asst. Dist. Atty. Kings Co., N. Y.
Entered class, 1889.
Left class, 1890.

Davis, Parke Hill, A.B., A.M.,

District Attorney, Northampton County.

22 South Third Street, Easton, Pa.

241 Spring Garden Street, Easton, Pa.

MARRIED, June 29, 1898, Miss Edith Knecht Detwiller.

CHILDREN: July 15, 1899, Elizabeth Virginia; December 11, 1901, Katharine; February 12, 1904, John Detwiller; January 20, 1906, Cynthia Parke.

Dear, Joseph Albert, Jr., A.B.,

Managing Editor,

The Evening Journal, Jersey City, N. J.

146 Harrison Avenue, Jersey City, N. J.

MARRIED, October 21, 1897, Julia Allene Reid.

CHILDREN: January 16, 1899, Joseph Albert 3d; March 15, 1901, Bertha Allene; June 18, 1906, Helen.

Dice, William Gordan, A.B., (P. & S.) M.D.,

Physician,

240 Michigan Street, Toledo, Ohio.

2307 Glenwood Avenue, Toledo, Ohio

MARRIED, April 14, 1902, Miss Gertrude McClure.

CHILDREN: June 20, 1907, Jane McClure.

Entered class, 1890.

Dodd, John N., A.B.,

Electrical Engineer,

Care of S. T. Dodd, 1101 Nott Street, Schenectady, N. Y.

MARRIED, September 19, 1900, Miss Flora Melovidoff Elliott.

CHILDREN: Sept. 20, 1902, Dorothy; April 3, 1904, Flora Alexandra.

Dodd, William Henry, A.B., A.M.,

Clergyman,

De Graaf Building, Albany, N. Y.

3 Leonard Place, Albany, N. Y.

MARRIED, September 15, 1897, Miss Rena M. Lapham.

CHILDREN: March 4, 1899, William H., Jr.; April 21, 1902, Sara A.

Doolittle, Alfred A.,

Thirty-fifth & K Streets, N. W., Washington, D. C.

Doolittle left our class in Freshman year, returning to Princeton to enter as a regular student with the Class of '96, in whose record books he is regularly listed.

Driscoll, Robert, Jr., A.B., (N. Y. L.) LL.B.,

Rancher,

Robstown, Texas.

UNMARRIED.

DuBois, Howard W.,

Mining Engineer,
302 Harrison Building, Philadelphia, Pa.
4108 Spruce Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

MARRIED, June 15, 1897, Miss Frances C. Higbee.

CHILDREN: Howard H. and Kathryn Vassor.

Entered class, 1889.

Left class, 1891.

Durland, Daniel Clarence, E.E.,

First Vice-President, Sprague Electric Company,
527 West Thirty-fourth Street, New York City.
345 West Eighty-fifth Street, New York City.

MARRIED, October 6, 1896, Miss Laura Young.

CHILDREN: February 3, 1898, William Reginald.

Entered class, 1889.

Left class, 1894.

Dwight, Ellsworth Everett,

Manufacturer,
63 Wall Street, New York City.
36 Franklin Street, Morristown, N. J.

MARRIED, April 4, 1907.

Easton, John S., A.B., (P. & S.) M.D.,

Physician,
524 Pennsylvania Avenue, Pittsburg, Pa.
3200 Forbes Street, Pittsburg, Pa.

MARRIED, November 15, 1900, Miss Ellen C. Holden.

CHILDREN: October 15, 1906, John S., Jr.

Entered class, 1890.

Edwards, Ogden M., Jr., B.S., (C. U.) M.D.,

Physician,
5607 Fifth Avenue, Pittsburg, Pa.

MARRIED, November 29, 1898, Miss Lela Harkness.

CHILDREN: September 7, 1899, Martha H.; October 5, 1903, Lela H.;
January 8, 1905, Harkness.

Egbert, Albert,

Musician,
Care of Dr. Seneca Egbert, 4814 Springfield Ave., Philadelphia, Pa.

UNMARRIED.

Elder, Frederick S., A.B., A.M.,

Solicitor for Bankers' Life Association of Des Moines, Iowa.

343 New York Life Building, Kansas City, Mo.

816 East Thirty-third Street, Kansas City, Mo.

MARRIED, November 30, 1893, Miss Cora Shreves.

CHILDREN: September 13, 1896, Dorothy Louise; November 2, 1901,
Marjorie Lahoma; February 5, 1903, Elizabeth; August 12, 1907,
Thomas Shreves.

Entered class, 1890.

Erdman, George L., A.B.,

Treasurer, Balfour Quarry Co.,
62 Patton Avenue, Asheville, N. C.
295 S. French Broad Avenue, Asheville, N. C.
UNMARRIED.

Ewing, James Falconer, A.B., A.M.,

Teacher,
Portland Academy, Portland, Ore.
610 Spring Street, Portland, Ore.
MARRIED, June 1, 1898, Miss Caroline Ladd Steel.
CHILDREN: Dec. 7, 1900, Thomas Davis; Sept. 21, 1902, Margaret.
Entered class, 1891.

Ferguson, Huber, A.B.,

Minister,
30 Douglas Avenue, Mansfield, Ohio.
MARRIED, June 24, 1896, Miss Caroline M. Kraeer.
CHILDREN: April 29, 1897, Kraeer; July 30, 1898, Helen; Nov. 28, 1903,
Charlotte Jane; March 6, 1904, Robert Gracey, Jr.; July 12, 1907, Paul.
Entered class, 1892.

Ferguson, Wilson, A.B.,

Agent,
Mint Arcade, Philadelphia, Pa.
1125 North Sixty-third Street, Philadelphia, Pa.
MARRIED, November 14, 1900, Miss E. Shirley Brockunier.
CHILDREN: August 25, 1901, Charles Brockunier; April 16, 1903, Elizabeth Brady; October 26, 1905, Shirley Brockunier.

Fisher, Herbert Payne, B.S., (U. of P.) M.D.,

Physician,
5324 Wayne Avenue, Germantown, Philadelphia, Pa.
MARRIED, October 26, 1897, Miss Alma H. Murphy.
CHILDREN: September 12, 1901, Lenore M.
Entered class, 1891.

Forman, Howard Sinnickson, B.S., (P. & S.) M.D.,

Physician,
640 Bergen Avenue, Jersey City, N. J.
MARRIED, October 31, 1904, Miss Edith Ratio Towar.
CHILDREN: October 7, 1905, Randolph; August 13, 1907, Rosaline.

Fraser, George Corning, B.S., (Col. Univ.) LL.B.,

Lawyer,
1 Nassau Street, New York City.
1 Madison Avenue, Morristown, N. J.
MARRIED, December 5, 1895, Miss Jane G. Tutt.
CHILDREN: December 31, 1896, George Corning, Jr.; August 21, 1899,
Myra T.; December 17, 1901, Anna Corning; April 4, 1904, Jane Tutt.

Freund, William Lewis, A.B.,

Minister,
12 Van Deventer Avenue, Princeton, N. J.
UNMARRIED.

Furst, John S.,

President of United States Sand-paper Co.,
Williamsport, Pa.
MARRIED, January 27, 1898, Miss Pauline N. Houston.
CHILDREN: May 30, 1902, Louise H.
Entered class, 1889.
Left class, 1889.

Garmany, George Larcombe, A.B.,

Real Estate Broker,
Drayton and St. Julian Streets, Savannah, Ga.
13 Duffy Street East, Savannah, Ga.
MARRIED, January 11, 1906, Miss Margaret Wade Hull.

Granger Gordon, nee Commodore V. Granger,

Supplies,
American Supply Co., Apartado 114, Oaxaca, Mexico.
Entered class, 1889.
Left class, 1889.

Granger, Henry G.,

Mining Engineer,
Colombia Central Railroad, Ciudad Reyes, Colombia.
Cartagena, Colombia, South America.
MARRIED, December 25, 1904, Miss Maria Adelaide Cervera.
CHILDREN: September 6, 1905, Arthur Otis, Jr.; September 3, 1906,
Ciceron Reyes Angel; September 25, 1907, Rafael.
POLITICAL OFFICE HELD: United States Consulate Agent at Quibdo
for eight years.
Entered class, 1889.
Left class, 1890.

Grant, Charles Travers, A.B.,

Lawyer,
502 Hamilton Building, Akron, Ohio.
Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio.
MARRIED, January 15, 1898, Miss Alnor Kittelberger.

Greene, Everette Lent, A.B.,

Electrician,
Ninety-sixth Street and First Avenue, New York City.
382 Fourth Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.
MARRIED, September 18, 1901, Miss Elsie Cooke.

Guild, William Alexander, A.B.,

Lawyer,
Gallatin, Tenn.

MARRIED, December 25, 1907, Miss Louise T. Allen.

Hall, Keppele, E.E.,

President and General Manager The Keppele Hall Company, Consulting Engineers and Contractors, 1111-1113 United Brethren Building, Dayton, Ohio.

424 West First Street, Dayton, Ohio.

MARRIED, April 9, 1896, Miss Fanny Southard Hay.

Hallock, Henry Golloway Comingo, A.B., (Rich. U.) Ph.D.,

Missionary,
18 Peking Road, Shanghai, China.
10 Livingston Park, Rochester, N. Y.

UNMARRIED.

POLITICAL OFFICE HELD: United States Envoy, Hangchow.

Hard, S. W.,

At Leisure.

Address, care of Mrs. S. B. Hard, Englewood, N. J.

NOT MARRIED.

Entered class, 1889.

Left class, 1890.

Harrington, Marshall, A.B., M.A.,

Minister,

First Presbyterian Church, Marysville, Ohio.

MARRIED, October 14, 1903, Miss Elizabeth Cathcart.

CHILDREN: August 28, 1904, Marshall Cathcart.

Entered class, 1890.

Harris, Van Alen, C.E.,

General Manager The Juncos Central Company,
Juncos, Porto Rico.

MARRIED, January 26, 1904, Miss Edith Thacher.

CHILDREN: March 9, 1905, Edith Thacher; June 2, 1906, Catherine.

Haughwout, E. V.,

At Leisure.

Mr. C. S. Haughwout, Cashier First National Bank, Denver, Col.

Entered class, 1889.

Left class, 1890.

Hayden, W. Langdon,

Mines,

Care of Ontaria Development Co., Majestic Building, Detroit, Mich.

MARRIED, August 15, 1894, Miss Louise Kinsman.

Entered class, 1889.

Left class, 1890.

Hencken, Albert C.,

Insurance Broker,
52 Broadway, New York City.
Greenwich, Conn.

MARRIED, April 5, 1899, Miss Minnie C. O'Neill.

CHILDREN: January 8, 1902, Hugh O'Neill.

Henderson, Horace L., A.B., (U. of P.) LL.B.,

Lawyer,
1420 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa.
Cynwyd, Pa.

MARRIED, April 29, 1903, Miss Bertha Taylor Brown.

CHILDREN: December 11, 1904, Marjorie Lyman; October 3, 1907, Martha Elizabeth.

Huffman, Miles A.,

Merchant,
40 Trinity Square, London E. C., England.
Gatton Point, Redhill, Surrey, England.

MARRIED, 1899. (Widower.)

CHILDREN: 1900, Miles A. H.

Entered class, 1891.

Left class, 1892.

Houston, Gavin Nelson, C.E.,

Consulting Engineer,
State Engineer's Office, State House, Denver, Col.
2118 South Milwaukee Avenue, Denver, Col.

MARRIED, June 20, 1894, Miss Jennie Throssell.

CHILDREN: May 1, 1895, Dorothy May; Nov. 22, 1896, Martha Isabell.

Howe, Fisher,

Banking,
Princeton, N. J.

UNMARRIED.

Entered class, 1889.

Left class, 1890.

Howland, H. A.,

Titusville, Pa.

*Howland was with us only six months Freshman year. He reëntered
Princeton with Class of '94, and is listed with them.*

Hudson, William M., A.B., (—) A.B., Ph.D.,

Minister, Prest. Waynesburg College,
Waynesburg, Pa.

MARRIED, June 27, 1905, Miss Florence Ronald Barclay.

Entered class, 1892.

Hughes, Charles Stone, A.B.,

Bellefont Academy, Bellefont, Pa.

MARRIED, March 21, 1901, Miss Emma Virginia Graham.

CHILDREN: December 13, 1905, James Potter, Jr.

Humphreys, Charles E., B.S.,

District Engineer, Bell Telephone Company,

2002 Tioga Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Narberth, Pa.

MARRIED, December 22, 1896, Miss Florence Kennedy.

CHILDREN: February 14, 1898, Colwyn K.; August 15, 1899, Owen;

August 22, 1900, Edith J.

Hurd, Clarence H., C.E.,

Civil Engineer,

Nevada-California Power Company, Bishop, Cal.

1613 Providence Street, Brookland, D. C.

MARRIED, April 5, 1905, Miss Grace Lewis.

Inslee, Heber Clyde, C.E.,

Mechanical Engineer,

Babcock & Wilcox Company, Bayonne, N. J.

50 Spruce Street, Newark, N. J.

UNMARRIED.

Ivins, John Wardell, A.B.,

Lawyer,

Red Bank, N. J.

MARRIED, 1906, Miss Julia E. Deacy.

Entered class, 1891.

Jackson, Eliot Gregory,

Buyer,

100-150 Kansas Street, care of Dunham, Carrigan & Hayden Company,
San Francisco.

2736 Filbert Street, San Francisco, Cal.

MARRIED, November 5, 1903, Miss Mollie Bray.

Entered class, 1889.

Left class, 1890.

Johnson, William Throckmorton, A.B.,

Student,

228 West Nineteenth Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

110 Grand Avenue, Asbury Park, N. J.

UNMARRIED.

Keedy, Henry H., Jr.,

Lawyer,
West Washington Street, Hagerstown, Md.
Prospect Street, Hagerstown, Md.

MARRIED, April 26, 1899, Miss Laura Virginia Loose.

CHILDREN: Aug. 25, 1900, Laura Virginia; Aug. 30, 1905, Julia Lane.

Entered class, 1889.

Left class, 1890.

Kellogg, Augustus C., A.B.,

Presbyterian Minister,
659 Newark Avenue, Elizabeth, N. J.
Cairo, N. Y.

UNMARRIED.

Kellogg, Frederic S., A.B., A. M., (U. of P.) M.D.,

Physician,
302 North Highland Avenue, Pittsburg, Pa.
627 Herran Avenue, Pittsburg, Pa.

MARRIED, October 3, 1903, Miss Gertrude Chew.

CHILDREN: July 31, 1904, Frederic Hartwell.

Entered class, 1891.

Kellogg, William Day, A.B., (N. Y. L.) LL.B.,

Lawyer,
Saranac Lake, N. Y.
659 Newark Avenue, Elizabeth, N. J.

UNMARRIED.

King, Philip, A.B.,

Merchant,
King's Palace, Washington, D. C.
Imperial Apartment, Washington, D. C.

MARRIED, January 17, 1905, Miss Jeannette Ruth Harris.

CHILDREN: April 17, 1908, Philip, Jr.

Kirtland, Kenneth Campbell, B.S., (N. Y.) LL.B.,

Lawyer,
170 Broadway, New York City.
483 Main Street, East Orange, N. J.

UNMARRIED.

Klots, George, C.E.,

Silk Manufacturer,
487 Broadway, New York City.
Lawrence, Long Island, N. Y.

MARRIED, November 1, 1905, Miss Elizabeth Watson Ives.

Lawrence, Edward A., A.B., (N. Y. L.) LL.B.,

Patent Lawyer,
Berger Building, Pittsburg, Pa.
174 Rodgers Avenue, Bellevue, Pa.

MARRIED, April 10, 1902, Miss Jean Nevin Cooper.

CHILDREN: Dec. 29, 1902, Jean Cooper; May 2, 1904, Edward Hamlin.

POLITICAL OFFICES HELD: Five years Corporation Counsel, Sharpsburg, Pa.

Entered class, 1891.

Lester, Felix H., A.B.,

Lawyer,
Rooms 5 and 7, First National Bank Building, Albuquerque, N. M.
1116 West Central Avenue, Albuquerque, N. M.

MARRIED, February 10, 1896, Miss Marion M. Merritt.

CHILDREN: March 23, 1899, Lorna.

Little, Lucius Freeman,

Managing Director, Alsop Flour Process, Ltd.,
21 Mincing Lane, London.
Owensboro, Ky.

UNMARRIED.

Entered class, 1889.

Left class, 1892.

Lord, Caleb Wheeler, (Lehigh) M.E.,

Manufacturer,
1831 Juniata Street, Philadelphia, Pa.
338 Manheim Street, Germantown, Philadelphia, Pa.

MARRIED, June 16, 1897, Miss Josephine Chapman.

CHILDREN: April 4, 1901, James 2d; March 11, 1905, Wheeler, Jr.

Entered class, 1889.

Left class, 1892.

Ludington, Dwight M., A.B.,

Lawyer,
Law Building, Baltimore, Md.

MARRIED, November 6, 1901, Miss Sara Leib.

CHILDREN: September 10, 1902, D. M., Jr.; May 9, 1905, Frank Leib.

McAlpin, Benjamin B., A.B., (N. Y.) LL.B.,

Lawyer,
68 William Street, New York City.
125 East Fifty-seventh Street, New York City.

MARRIED, November 10, 1897, Miss Alice Townsend Martin.

CHILDREN: December 3, 1898, Benjamin B., Jr.; January 14, 1901, Donald Martin; October 5, 1903, Townsend Martin.

McClumpha, L. H.,

Builder,
51 Union Street, Amsterdam, N. Y.

MARRIED, June 21, 1893, Miss Gertrude A. Groot.

CHILDREN: August 31, 1895, William K.

Entered class, 1889.

Left class, 1891.

MacGaffin, Alexander,

Lockport, N. Y.

On account of ill health McGaffin left our class in Freshman year, returning the following one as a regular student with '94, in whose record books he is regularly listed.

Macloskie, George, Jr., C.E.,

Electrical Engineer,

General Electric Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

3 Parkwood Boulevard, Schenectady, N. Y.

MARRIED, January 4, 1905, Miss Cora Wilhelmi.

CHILDREN: May 18, 1906, Adaline.

Marrow, William Chamberlaine,

Metropolitan Club, Washington, D. C.

UNMARRIED.

Entered class, 1890.

Left class, 1891.

Maury, Frank F.,

Care Dr. J. P. Hutchinson, 1702 Locust Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

UNMARRIED.

Entered class, 1889.

Left class, 1890.

Miller, Gardiner Hope, A.B.,

Cotton Commission Merchant.

50 Cotton Exchange, New York City.

16 West Sixty-ninth Street, New York City.

MARRIED, September 19, 1906, Miss Emma Achelis.

CHILDREN: August 21, 1907, Hope.

Miller, James Alexander, A.B., A.M., (P. & S.) M.D.,

Physician,

18 West Fifty-first Street, New York City.

550 Park Avenue, New York City.

MARRIED, June 4, 1902, Miss Marian C. Hunt.

CHILDREN: February 6, 1904, Constance; July 5, 1907, Marian.

Mills, Frederick H., (Jeff.) M.D.,

Surgeon, U. S. A.,

Fort Flagler, Washington.

South Dayton, N. Y.

MARRIED, December 30, 1896, Miss Adeline Robbins.

Entered class, 1889.

Left class, 1891.

Moffitt, Luther R., A.B.,

Teacher,
173 Ransom Street, Grand Rapids, Mich.
1705 N. Front Street, Harrisburg, Pa.

UNMARRIED.

Montgomery, Charles H., A.B.,

Dealer in Salt,
Warsaw, N. Y.

UNMARRIED.

Montgomery, Lee, A.B.,

Lawyer,
112 West Fourth Street, Sedalia, Mo.
711 West Sixth Street, Sedalia, Mo.

MARRIED, May 26, 1897, Miss Elizabeth Paschall Zimmerman.

CHILDREN: February 19, 1898, Elizabeth; September, 4, 1899, John;
November 26, 1901, Elinor; January 2, 1906, Lees; February 7, 1908,
Benjamin W.
Entered class, 1890.

Moore, Howard, C.E.,

Professor of Engineering, Colorado College.
1140 Wood Avenue, Colorado Springs, Col.

UNMARRIED.

Morris, DuBois Schank, A.B.,

Missionary,
Hwai Yuen, China (via Nanking).
20 Fifth Avenue, New York, N. Y.

UNMARRIED.

Mullen, R. M., C.E.,

Civil Engineer,
Indiana, Pa.

UNMARRIED.

Murray, George R.,

Athletic Treasurer.
90 Nassau Street, Princeton.
162 Mercer Street, Princeton, N. J.

MARRIED, September 5, 1906, Miss Etta T. Clayton.

Murray, Harold G., B.S.,

Secretary Committee of Fifty, Princeton University,
52 Wall Street, New York City.
Fox Lane, Flushing, New York.

MARRIED, July 1, 1902, Miss Florence M. Eilbeck.

CHILDREN: February 12, 1904, Charlotte Ellen; June 10, 1906, Lindley;
March 29, 1908, Audrey.

POLITICAL OFFICES HELD: Secretary Commissioner of Health,
New York City; Secretary Board of Water Supply of New York.

Neely, David Tarence, A.B.,

Minister,
1641 North Caroline Street, Baltimore, Md.
MARRIED, December 26, 1896, Miss Sara Herr Shelley.

Newton, C. Bertram, A.B.,

Teacher,
Woodhull House, Lawrenceville, N. J.
MARRIED, June 28, 1899, Miss Carol H. Cooke.
CHILDREN: November 26, 1900, Lois; June 28, 1902, David; August 4, 1904, Theodore; November 12, 1905, Joy.

Nicely, John W., A.B., M.A.,

Minister,
5700 Prairie Ave., Chicago, Ill.
5828 South Park Avenue, Chicago, Ill.
MARRIED, June 22, 1898, Miss Helen Nesbit Mount.
CHILDREN: June 18, 1899, James Mount; Dec. 24, 1900, Harold Elliott.
Entered class, 1891.

North, Alfred M.,

Treasurer American Metal Works,
326-328 Armat Street, Germantown, Philadelphia, Pa.
117 W. Cheltenham Avenue, Germantown, Philadelphia, Pa.
UNMARRIED.
Entered class, 1890.
Left class, 1892.

Norton, Edward Russell, C.E.,

Wholesale Coal Merchant,
85 Water Street, Boston, Mass., or 1 Broadway, New York City.
41 Powell Street, Brookline, Mass.
MARRIED, September 21, 1904, Miss Lillian Weriship Hyde.

Palmer, Edward R., A.B., (U. of L.) M.D.,

Physician,
721 W. Jefferson Street, Louisville, Ky.
5 Main Street, Jefferson Town, Ky.
MARRIED, February 6, 1905, Miss Mary G. McCann.
CHILDREN: June 5, 1907, Mary E.

Pardee, Calvin, Jr.,

Assistant Superintendent,
Lattimer Mines, Hazleton, Pa.
MARRIED, 1905.
CHILDREN: One boy.
Entered class, 1889.
Left class, 1891.

Parker, Arthur D.,

Merchant,
227 Tchoupitsales Street, New Orleans, La.
3202 Prytania Street, New Orleans, La.

MARRIED, November 24, 1903, Miss Grace Morton Phillips.

CHILDREN: September 12, 1904, Arthur D., Jr.; September 22, 1905,
Robert Moore and James Phillips (twins).

Entered class, 1889.

Left class, 1891.

Patton, Francis Landey, Jr., A.B.,

Lawyer,
40 Wall Street, New York, N. Y.
306 West Ninety-fourth Street, New York, N. Y.

MARRIED, April 30, 1903, Miss Jessie Campbell McIntyre.

Paul, John Shelden,

Monrovia, Cal.
Care of S. S. Paul, Bretton Hall, New York, N. Y.

UNMARRIED.

Perry, Wesley Vick, A.B., (N. Y. L.) LL.B.,

Lawyer,
Russellville, Ky.

MARRIED, July 2, 1903, Miss Jeanette Johnson.

CHILDREN: June 27, 1904, Wesley Vick, Jr.; Mary Elizabeth and George William.

POLITICAL OFFICE HELD: State Representative.

Entered class, 1892.

Phillips, Alex. McAlpin,

Secretary, Mercer County Tax Board, and Newspaper Correspondent,
Mercer County Court House, Trenton, N. J.

308 West State Street, Trenton, N. J.

MARRIED, February 22, 1894, Miss Jennie Elizabeth Williams.

CHILDREN: January 7, 1895, Elsie McAlpin.

Entered class, 1889.

Left class, 1892.

Pollison, William Elmer, A.B.,

Teacher,
Waverly Park, N. J.

UNMARRIED.

Poole, Harry Otis, A.B.,

Lawyer,
339 Powers Building, Rochester, N. Y.
60 Westminster Road, Rochester, N. Y.

MARRIED, September 22, 1903, Miss Nannette R. Delano.

CHILDREN: June 23, 1905, Elizabeth Delano.

Porter, James Wiken, Jr.,

President of Carroll-Porter Boiler & Tank Company,
907 Empire Building, Pittsburg, Pa.
Sewickley, Pa.

UNMARRIED.

Entered class, 1889.
Left class, 1891.

Post, Bertram Van Dyck, A.B., (—) M.D.,

Physician,
Robert College, Constantinople, Turkey.

MARRIED, December 26, 1901, Miss Caroline Hyde Hardin.

CHILDREN: Dec. 21, 1902, Dorothy Isabel; Oct. 4, 1905, George Hardin.

Proudfit, Alexander Couper, A.B., (B. U.) A.B.,

Patent Lawyer,
105 East Twenty-second Street, New York, N. Y.
27 Washington Square, North, New York, N. Y.

UNMARRIED.

POLITICAL OFFICE HELD: Commr. N. Y. State Custodial Asylum.

Randolph, Mervyn P., E.E.,

Mining,
Goldfield, Nevada.
1410 Belmont Avenue, Seattle, Wash.

MARRIED, June 10, 1903, Miss Elizabeth C. Bowman.

Entered class, 1890.
Left class, 1893.

Reed, Albert Granberry, (V. U.) A.B., (Y.) A.M., (H.) Ph.D.,

Teacher,
University of Missouri, Columbia, Mo.
712 Providence Road, Columbia, Mo.

MARRIED, December 22, 1898, Miss Margaret McDearmon.

CHILDREN: Sept. 17, 1899, Albert Granberry; Oct. 2, 1902, Mary Boston.
Entered class, 1889.
Left class, 1890.

Reid, William J., A.B.,

Clergyman,
First United Presbyterian Church, Fifth Ave., Oakland, Pittsburg, Pa.
920 Aiken Avenue, Pittsburg, Pa.

MARRIED, July 28, 1896, Miss Margaret Morbon Thompson.

CHILDREN: August 25, 1897, Elizabeth Thompson; August 7, 1899, Mary Bowen; September 24, 1905, Janet Donaldson.

Remsen, James Ditmars, C.E.,

Assistant Actuary,
Columbian National Life Insurance Co., 180 Federal St., Boston, Mass.
Hotel Beaconsfield, Brookline, Mass.

MARRIED, October 27, 1906, Miss Melinda Gilbert Plimpton.

Riggs, Charles Trowbridge, A.B.,

Foreign Missionary,
Bible House, Constantinople, Turkey.

Roumeli Hissar, Constantinople, Turkey.

MARRIED, June 9, 1900, Miss Mary Randle Steele.

CHILDREN: Nov. 19, 1901, Sarah Randle; Aug. 23, 1904, Charles T., Jr.

Ritchy, J. Warren, A.B., A.M.,

Teacher,
Hughes High School, Cincinnati, Ohio.
415 Considine Avenue, Cincinnati, Ohio.

MARRIED, November 25, 1895, Miss Belle McDiarmid.

CHILDREN: August 5, 1900, Mary Elizabeth; March 1, 1907, Hugh McD.

Entered class, 1890.

Rodgers, John C.,

Accountant,
225 North Twelfth Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

UNMARRIED.

Entered class, 1889.

Left class, 1891.

Rogers, Herbert Milton, A.B.,

Hardware Merchant,
1321 Farnam Street, Omaha, Neb.
3718 Dewey Avenue, Omaha, Neb.

MARRIED, June 4, 1898, Miss Anna C. Millard.

CHILDREN: March 27, 1899, Milton; February 8, 1901, Millard H.; April 14, 1903, Helen.

Rogers, James S., A.B., (U. of P.) LL.B.,

Lawyer,
602 Commonwealth Building, Philadelphia, Pa.
Haverford, Pa.

MARRIED, April 26, 1904, Miss Agnes G. Klemm.

CHILDREN: January 31, 1905, Eleanor Eastwick; January 19, 1907, Talbot Mercer.

POLITICAL OFFICE HELD: Magistrate.

Rollinson, Simeon H.,

Lawyer,
Orange National Bank, Orange, N. J.
93 Northfield Road, West Orange, N. J.

MARRIED, June 4, 1904, Miss Ruth M. Small.

CHILDREN: March 24, 1905, Keturah Crane.

POLITICAL OFFICES HELD: Mayor of West Orange Town Council;
Fish and Game Commissioner.

Entered class, 1889.

Left class, 1892.

Romero, Jose, A.B., M.A., (Mex. L. S.) LL.B.,

Lawyer,

Apartado No. 1475, Mexico City, Mexico.

UNMARRIED.

POLITICAL OFFICES HELD: Secretary Mexican Embassy at Washington, D. C.; Department of Foreign Affairs of Mexico; Delegate to Farmers' Congress held in Denver, Col., 1901; Delegate Tenth International Geological Congress; Attaché Mexican Delegation of Second Pan-American Conference; Attaché Mexican Delegation American Association of Public Health in 1900 and 1906; Secretary Third Pan-American Sanitary Convention.

Sabine, William Tufnell, Jr., A.B., (N. Y. L.) LL.B.,

Lawyer,

135 Broadway, New York City.

960 Madison Avenue, New York City.

UNMARRIED.

Salter, John S., (Univ. of Paris) B.L.,

86 Revere Street, Boston, Mass.

Care of J. G. Salter, Ocean City, N. J.

MARRIED, 1895, Miss Meta R. M. Knox.

CHILDREN: 1897, boy.

Entered class, 1889.

Left class, 1891.

Sanders, Inman H.,

Cotton Merchant,

Corinth, Miss.

MARRIED, June 8, 1898, Miss Catherine Gay.

CHILDREN: May 4, 1899, girl.

Entered class, 1889.

Left class, 1890.

Satterthwaite, Pennington, B.S.,

Architect,

27 East Twenty-second Street, New York City.

The Princeton Club, New York, N. Y.

UNMARRIED.

Saxe, Martin, (N. Y. L.) LL.B.,

Lawyer and State Senator,

280 Broadway, New York City.

2345 Broadway, New York City.

UNMARRIED.

POLITICAL OFFICES HELD: Assistant Corporation Counsel; State Senator.

Entered class, 1891.

Left class, 1893.

Schilling, Louis F.,

Mechanical Engineer,
3400 Forbes Avenue, Pittsburg, Pa.
MARRIED, October 12, 1904, Miss Olive Ray.
CHILDREN: September 17, 1905, Ray.
Entered class, 1890.
Left class, 1892.

Schultz, Elmer K., A.B.,

Fire Insurance Broker,
425 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa.
3446 North Carlisle Street, Philadelphia, Pa.
MARRIED, August 18, 1892, Miss May A. Hirner.
CHILDREN: July 2, 1893, Lloyd H.; Nov. 19, 1897, Myriam Evelyn.

Seibert, Edgar Calvin, (P. & S.) M.D.,

Physician,
436 South Main Street, Orange, N. J.
MARRIED, January 18, 1899, Miss Mary McLeod.
Entered class, 1889.
Left class, 1890.

Shannon, Christian I.,

Broker,
Ferguson Block, Pittsburg, Pa.
Broad Street, Sewickley, Pa.
MARRIED, June 2, 1898, Miss Ethel Elizabeth Standish.
Entered class, 1891.

Shelton, Richard Theodore, A.B.,

Wholesale Hatter,
1101 Washington Avenue, St. Louis, Mo.
4352 Westminster Place, St. Louis, Mo.
MARRIED, April 26, 1899, Miss Allouise Douglass.
CHILDREN: February 8, 1891, Caroline Shelton.

Sherman, Clayton Fenn, A.B.,

Druggist,
1340 State Street, Schenectady, N. Y.
MARRIED, December 16, 1899, Miss Emma Moith.
CHILDREN: May 20, 1901, Ruth Moith; December 8, 1903, Helen Amelia.
POLITICAL OFFICE HELD: Postmaster.

Sloss, Robert T., A.B.,

Author,
270 West Fourth Street.
MARRIED, September 4, 1893, Miss Emma Hill.
CHILDREN: June 11, 1895, Julien Curtis; December 12, 1897, Warin
Wilder; October 5, 1900, Hugh Howell.

Spiegel, William Leonard, A.B., A.M.,

Boiler Manufacturer,
Pearl and Lawrence Streets, Cincinnati, Ohio.
2618 Erie Avenue, Hyde Park, Cincinnati, Ohio.

MARRIED, September 26, 1895, Miss Fannie Miller Stricker.

Spooner, W. H.,

Lawyer,
Herman Building, Milwaukee, Wis.
Entered class, 1889.
Left class, 1890.

Stearns, Walter C., C.E.,

Raw Silk Importer,
487 Broadway, New York City.
Woodmere, N. Y.

MARRIED, June 5, 1895, Miss Rebecca C. Potts.

CHILDREN: November 3, 1896, Walter C., Jr.; October 10, 1898, Gilbert Potts; June 11, 1900, James Britton; April 28, 1907, Dorothy.

Stelle, Frederick W., A.B., (N. Y. L.) LL.B.,

Lawyer,
68 William Street, New York City.
148 East Thirty-sixth Street, New York City.

MARRIED, November 18, 1907, Miss Margaret F. Cooley.

POLITICAL OFFICES HELD: Assistant Corporation Counsel, Attorney State Department of Excise.

Stockton, John,

Civil and Electrical Engineer,
1221 Washington Street, Hoboken, N. J.

MARRIED, September 24, 1900, Mrs. Mary Frances Savage.

CHILDREN: (step-daughter legally adopted), August 21, 1889, Nina Margaret Stockton; November 2, 1905, Louise Pintard.

Entered class, 1889.
Left class, 1891.

Sudler, Charles E. H., C.E.,

Civil Engineer,
703 Laura Street, Jacksonville, Fla.

UNMARRIED.

Tarkington, Newton Booth,

• Author,
1110 North Pennsylvania Avenue, Indianapolis, Ind.

MARRIED, June, 1902, Miss Laurel Louise Fletcher.

CHILDREN: February, 1906, Laurel Louise.

POLITICAL OFFICE HELD: Member State Legislature.

Entered class, 1891.
Left class, 1893.

Tawney, Guy Allan, A.B., M.A., (Leipzig) Ph.D.,

Lecturer in Philosophy,
University of Illinois, Urbana, Ill.
1001 West California Avenue, Urbana, Ill.

UNMARRIED.

Entered class, 1891.

Left class, 1893.

Thomas, Robert McKean, E.E.,

President, Thomas & Betts Company,
299 Broadway, New York City.
135 Madison Avenue, New York City.

UNMARRIED.

POLITICAL OFFICE HELD: Assistant Chief Inspector New York City
Electrical Bureau.

Entered class, 1890.

Left class, 1893.

Thompson, Alexander Marshall, A.B.,

Lawyer,
728 Frick Building, Pittsburg, Pa.
333 Pacific Avenue, Pittsburg, Pa.

UNMARRIED.

POLITICAL OFFICE HELD: Assistant City Solicitor of Pittsburg.

Thompson, John Bard, A.B.,

Lawyer,
614 Broadway, South Sharon, Pa.
Fruit Avenue, South Sharon, Pa.

MARRIED, June 22, 1904, Katherine Porter.

CHILDREN: March 18, 1905, Horace Bard.

Tildsley, John L., A.B.,

Teacher of Economics,
155 West Sixty-fifth Street, New York City.
61 Arthur Street, Yonkers, N. Y.

MARRIED, June 24, 1896, Miss Bertha A. Watters.

CHILDREN: April 24, 1897, Jane; January 2, 1899, John Lee; December 27, 1900, Margaret; July 19, 1904, Kathleen.

Titsworth, Frederick Sheppard, C.E., (D. U.) A.B., (C. S. S. of M.) E.M.,

Assistant to General Attorney D. & R. G. R.R.,
Equitable Building, Denver, Col.
1025 Pearl Street, Denver, Col.

MARRIED, May 12, 1897, Miss Jane Marian Brown.

CHILDREN: May 26, 1898, Junius Brown; July 12, 1891, Frances Grant;
September 30, 1903, Marian Hooker.

Tower, Rev. W. H.,

95 Chambers Street, New York City.

Left the class in Freshman year to return the following as a member of '94, with which class he is listed as a graduate member.

Turner, Theodore Baker, A.B.,

Lecturer,
Corning, Iowa.

MARRIED, June 25, 1903, Miss Ida Jane Okey.

CHILDREN: Sept. 18, 1905, Almira Baker; Feb. 19, 1907, John Harold.

Wadsworth, Frank Herbert, A.B.,

Lawyer,
35 Nassau Street, New York City.
St. Paul's Road, Garden City, N. Y.

MARRIED, April 14, 1898, Miss Martha Lyon.

CHILDREN: May 15, 1900, Frank Herbert, Jr.; February 18, 1903, Florence Choate, September 25, 1907, Morton Lyon.

Warren, Ralph Herbert,

Portland Cement Manufacturer,
356 Market Street, Bethlehem, Pa.

MARRIED, September 15, 1898, Miss Susan A. Woolworth.

CHILDREN: July 7, 1899, Eleanor W.; August 24, 1902, Mildred W.
Entered class, 1889.
Left class, 1891.

Washburn, William M.,

At Leisure.
Saugerties, N. Y.

UNMARRIED.

Entered class, 1889.
Left class, 1891.

Wheeler, Charles N.,

Real Estate Broker,
119 West Jefferson Avenue, Peoria, Ill.
R. F. D. No. 36, Peoria, Ill.

MARRIED, June 20, 1894, Miss Rachel C. Wheeler.

CHILDREN: May 26, 1897, Jane Steele.
Entered class, 1889.
Left class, 1890.

Wherry, Elmer George, A.B., A.M., (P. & S.) M.D.,

Physician,
325 Clinton Avenue, Newark, N. J.

MARRIED, September 17, 1902, Miss Mary Matilda Rue.

CHILDREN: Feb. 18, 1904, Catherine Rue; Nov. 8, 1907, John B.
POLITICAL OFFICE HELD: Coroner.

Wherry, John Frederick, A.B.,

Lawyer,
Prudential Building, Newark, N. J.
325 Clinton Avenue, Newark, N. J.

UNMARRIED.

White, Israel Losey,

Newark News, Newark, N. J.

Left our class in Freshman year, and reëntered Princeton with '95, with which class he is listed.

Wilkinson, John Wesley Featherer, A.B., A.M.,

Professor of Mathematics,

State Normal School, Clarion, Pa.

MARRIED, August 23, 1893, Miss Martie E. Stewart.

CHILDREN: August 7, 1895, Florence; August 22, 1900, Charles Herbert.

Winans, Herbert L., A.B., A.M.,

Teacher,

Harvard School, Los Angeles, Cal.

1409 Hobart Boulevard, Los Angeles, Cal.

MARRIED, August 21, 1903, Miss Dorothy Catherine Swezey.

CHILDREN: April 25, 1906, Gilbert Swezey.

Woodcock, Lee B., A.B., (M. C. of Phila.) M.D.,

Physician,

627 Linden Street, Scranton, Pa.

UNMARRIED.

Wurts, Robert Kennedy, A.B.,

Banker,

125 South Fourth Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

2202 Pine Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

MARRIED, November 19, 1896, Miss Katherine Beach Newbold.

CHILDREN: February 2, 1898, Marian Stewart; April 1, 1899, Eleanor Trenchard; December 4, 1900, Rosamond.

Wylie, Andrew C., A.B., (N. Y. L.) LL.B.,

Lawyer,

330 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

4334 Pine Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

MARRIED, June 24, 1896, Miss Alice Fairfield.

CHILDREN: July 25, 1897, Walter Fairfield; Oct. 11, 1898, Loren Luke.

Yont, Harry N.,

Greensburg, Pa.

Left the class in Freshman year, and reëntered Princeton as a member of '94, with which class he is listed.

Young, Henry, Jr., A.B.,

Lawyer,

800 Broad Street, Newark, N. J.

43 Washington Street, Newark, N. J.

MARRIED, February 1, 1899, Miss Alice Isabel Ballantine.

CHILDREN: June 2, 1900, Henry 3d; July 15, 1901, Alice Ballantine; May 10, 1905, John Ballantine; August 1, 1908, Rodney Stuart.

POLITICAL OFFICE HELD: Member State Assembly.

NECROLOGY

“ Deposited upon the silent shore of memory

Images and precious thoughts that shall not die and cannot be destroyed.”

Wordsworth.

HORACE THURBER CONANT

(Taken one year before death.)

HORACE THURBER CONANT

Horace Thurber Conant was born at Monroe, Mich., on October 4, 1871. He attended the public schools of that city until September, 1886, when he entered the Michigan Military Academy at Orchard Lake, Mich., where he remained two years, afterward returning to Monroe and completing his preparation for college at the Monroe High School. He entered Princeton University in the fall of 1889, where he remained but one year. He died at his home at Monroe, Mich., October 13, 1890.

CONSTANT LINCOLN DEWITT

(Taken three years before death)

CONSTANT LINCOLN DEWITT

Constant Lincoln Dewitt was born August 18, 1870. He attended the district public school at Wantage, N. J., until he started his preparation for college at the Seeley Institute, Sussex, N. J. From this institute he entered Princeton.

After graduation from Princeton he accepted a position as instructor in the Freehold Institute, N. J., which occupied his time for one year. During the summer of 1894 he studied at Heidelberg, Germany.

Returning to America, he entered the New York Law School, from which he took his degree of LL.D. in 1897. That same year he was admitted to the New Jersey bar, and began practice at 800 Broad Street, Newark, N. J.

During his residence in Newark he was an enthusiastic member and one of the organizers of the Newark Athletic Club.

On account of failing health in 1902 he was compelled to leave his law practice in Newark and go to Denver, Col. Later, during the winter of 1902-3, he went to Albuquerque, N. M., returning to Denver on March 25, 1903, where he died from tuberculosis.

He left a widow, Clementine Bruen Dewitt, but no children.

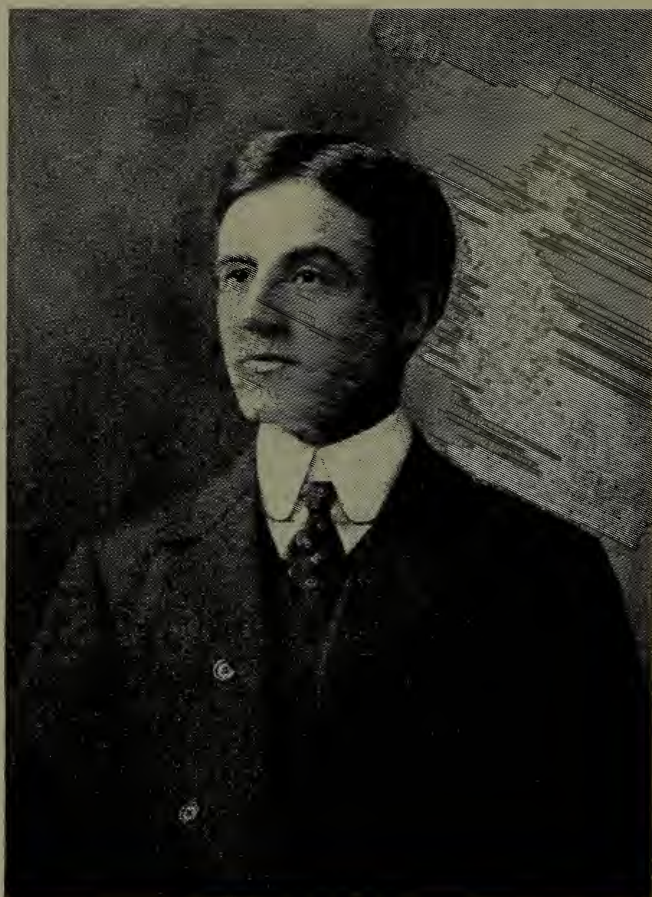

FRANK EUGENE DILL
(Taken shortly before death)

FRANK EUGENE DILL

Dill was born in Richmond, Ind., April 24, 1871. His parents, Matthew Henry Dill, and his mother, Emily Hutton, were Americans.

After attending the public school in his native town Dill entered Swathmore in September, 1885, electing a classical course, but remained only two years, returning to his home to enter our class in September, 1890, and left on account of poor health in November, 1891. He lived at home until the time of his death, October 1, 1892.

WILLIAM ASHENHURST DUNN

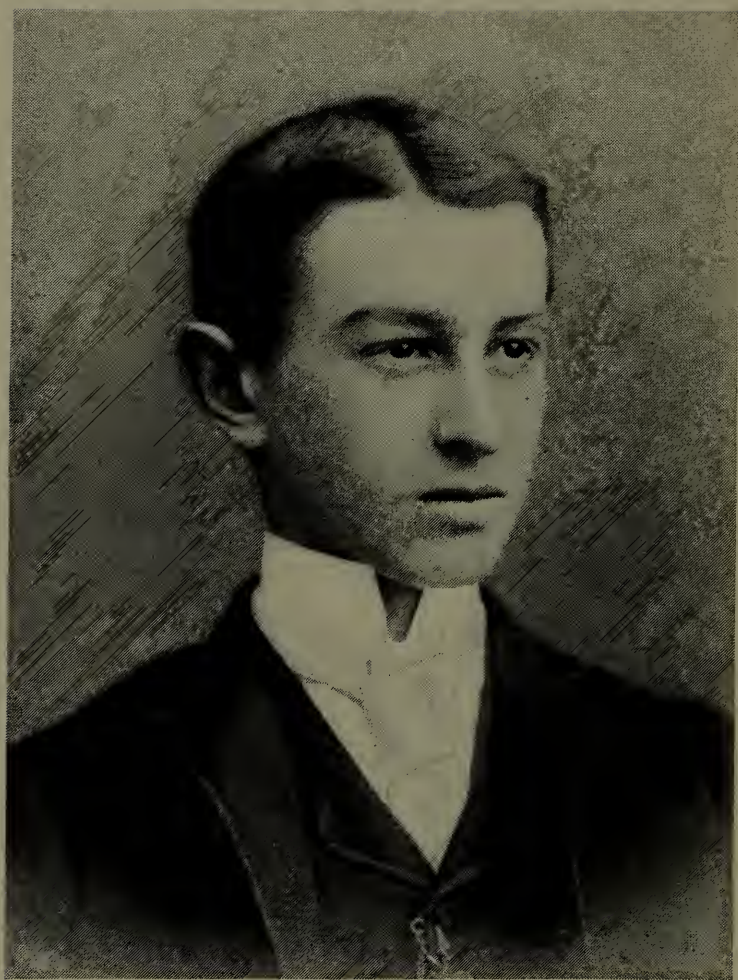

(Taken shortly before death)

WILLIAM ASHENHURST DUNN

William Ashenhurst Dunn was born September 10, 1873, in Carroll County, Ohio. His ancestry on both sides was Scotch-Irish. His father, Rev. W. C. Dunn, was a graduate of Westminster College, New Wilmington, Pa. W. A. Dunn took his preparatory course as well as Freshman and Sophomore years at the University of Wooster, Wooster, Ohio, entering with us with the Junior year. For three years after graduation he was instructor in English at Princeton. During the year 1896-1897, he taught English in the Hill School, Pottstown, Pa. The two following years he spent at the University of Strassburg, where he obtained his Ph.D. From 1899 until his death, October 18, 1901, he was Professor of English in Adelphi College, Brooklyn.

He was married June 20, 1901, to Miss Louise Morrison of Mineral Point, O.

While at Princeton, Dunn was one of the editors of the Nassau Literary Magazine, and contributed to it many verses and sketches. His thesis at Strassburg had for its subject "De Quincey's Relation to German Philosophy and Literature." This was treated necessarily in the minute and infinitely patient fashion of German learning. But while in this way it won from the Faculty a "cum honore," it had far higher merits. He did not content himself with the mere accumulation and classification of facts. His work contributes largely to our understanding of that interesting period of our literary history, and what is more, it furnishes many new lights upon De Quincey's character, sympathies, methods and freaks of thought. Besides this he wrote—and this was his favorite employment—many poems. Three or four of these have been published in the Atlantic Monthly. The rest are known only to two or three of his friends. In this field, as in others, he was as yet only beginning.

JOHN MARSHALL EDGAR

(Taken one year before death)

JOHN MARSHALL EDGAR

Edgar entered at the beginning of our Sophomore year as a special student in the School of Science, and died of tuberculosis, November 18, 1891, at his home in Chambersburg, Pa.

He was prepared for Princeton in the Chambersburg schools, but owing to ill health did not enter with us in Freshman year as a regular student.

His father, the Rev. Dr. Edgar, was a college graduate, and at the time of our classmate's death was President of Wilson Female College. His mother was a Miss Boggs, of Pennsylvania.

During the year and a half that Edgar was at Princeton the ravages of the disease from which he died were so intense as to cause him great suffering. He never complained, however, but was not able to enter into athletic sports, and kept much to his room.

His love for Alma Mater and the class was very great, and with his death we lost a loyal Princetonian.

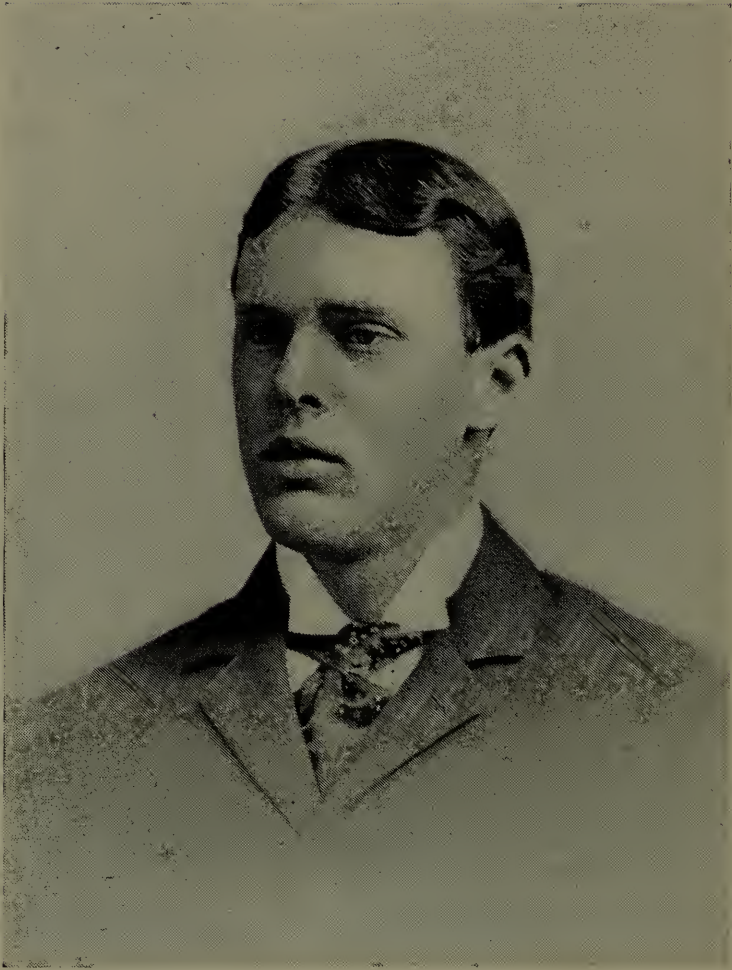

PHILEMON AUMACK FALKENBURG

(Taken several years before death)

PHILEMON AUMACK FALKENBURG

He was the son of Frances Aumack and Caleb Falkenburg, natives of New Jersey, and was born at Toms River, December 4, 1870.

He attended the Toms River High School, and from there went to Lawrenceville, where he studied for Princeton from 1885 to 1889. He entered with the class in 1889, but left in June, 1890, on account of ill health. He remained at home for two years, and then went to San Francisco, Cal., then to Portland, Ore., and then to Rockford, Wash., where he was employed in a banking institution, and subsequently in the same business at Seattle, Wash. After a brief visit to New Jersey he returned to Portland, Ore., and formed a partnership with an uncle, the firm representing the States of Oregon and Washington as general agents for the Manhattan Life Insurance Company. Continuing in this business about two years, he was obliged to relinquish active duties on account of failing health, resulting from a severe cold. Early in February, 1897, by advice of his physicians, he went to Honolulu in quest of health, but, failing to improve, he soon returned to the United States and at once settled in Phoenix, Arizona, where he died on March 26, 1897. His remains were brought to his native State and interred in the family plot in Riverside Cemetery, Toms River, N. J., April 2, 1897, exactly five years after the date of his leaving home to take up his residence in the West.

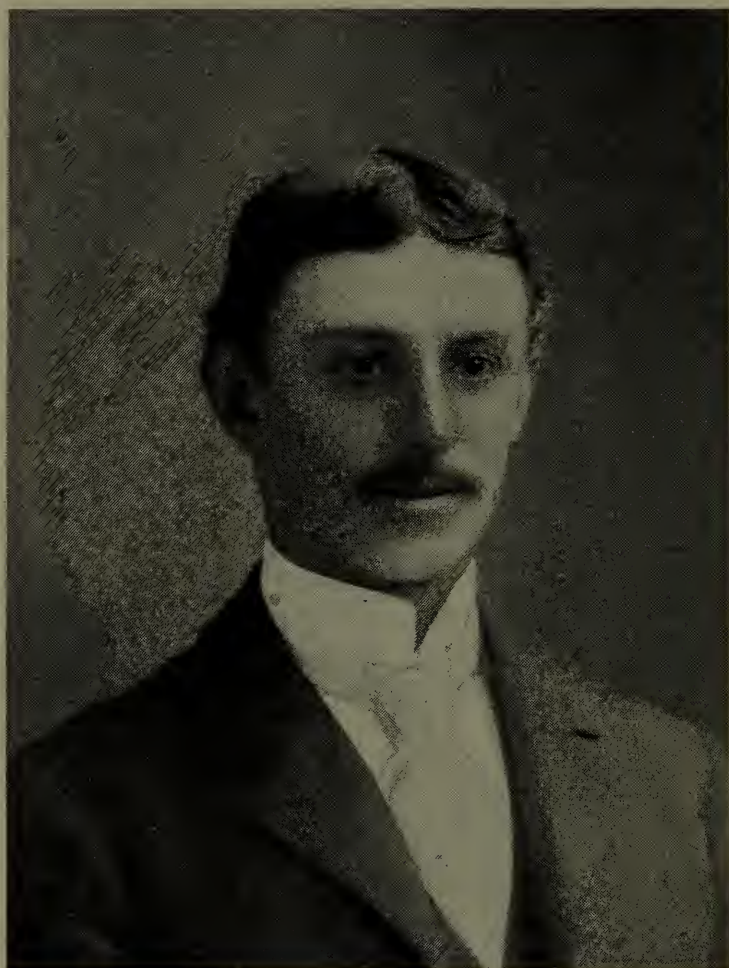

JOHN CLEVE GREEN
(Taken four years before death)

JOHN CLEVE GREEN

John C. Green was born in Trenton, August 1, 1872. His father, Charles Ewing Green, was a graduate of Princeton Class of 1860, and a Trustee of the College. His mother was Miss Mary Livingston Potter. John was named for his grand uncle, John C. Green, through whose generosity the School of Science was established. He received his preparatory education at Lawrenceville, and entered the academic department of the college in the fall of '89.

While in college his health began to fail owing to intestinal troubles, and after graduation he spent the greater part of his time until his death in traveling for his health. For a short time, needing out-door life, he acted as curator for Lawrenceville School. During his college course and after he was a very earnest worker in the Y. M. C. A. In the fall of '97 the disease from which he suffered told so upon his strength that he could take but little active part in business, and December 6, 1897, he died.

FREDERICK H. GUNNING
(Taken eleven years before death)

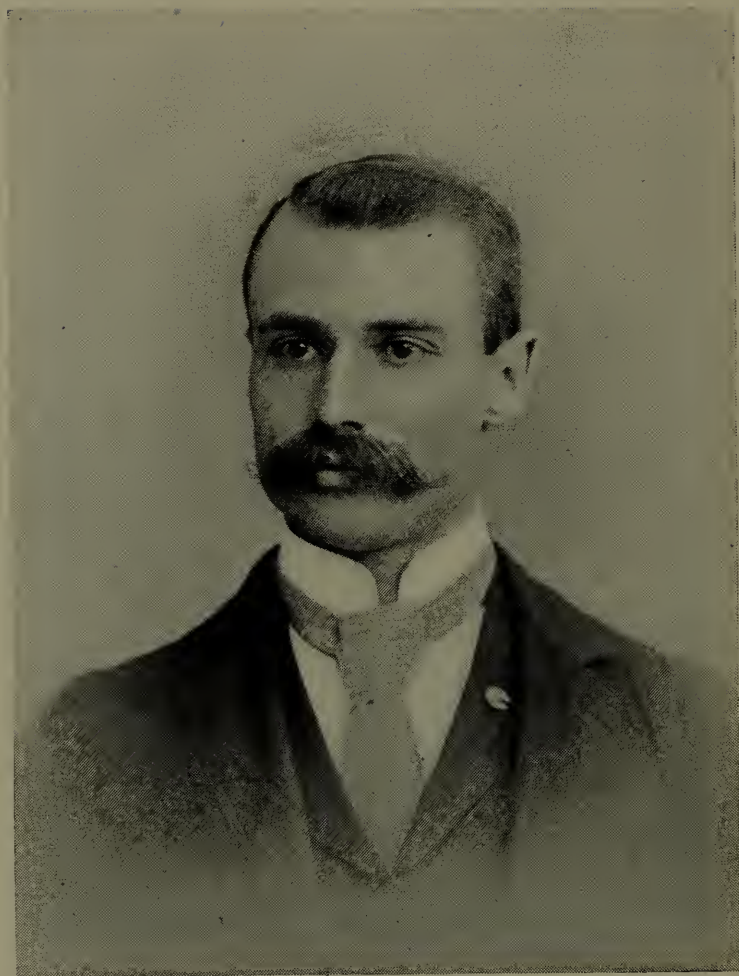

FREDERICK H. GUNNING

Gunning was born at Trenton, N. J., May 25, 1871. Both of his parents were Americans, his father, who was a graduate of New York University, was a physician practicing in New York City.

Gunning attended the Columbia Grammar School for a time, and then went to the Berkley School, from which he was graduated in 1889. He entered Princeton with us as a candidate for the B.S. degree. He remained at Princeton for one year only, however, preferring to engage in business. After leaving Princeton he went to New York City and opened an office as a real estate broker at 135 Broadway.

Gunning was considered an authority on real estate values, and was a member of the Board of Tax Assessors of Westchester County, and was also a member of the New York Board of Brokers and of the New York Allied Real Estate Interests.

On January 11, 1899, he married Miss Louise Clement Popham. Two daughters were born to them, Frances Morris, who died at the age of three years, and Louise Popham. On January 18, 1906, Gunning died of pneumonia. He is survived by his wife and daughter.

CHARLES CORLE HALL

(Taken shortly before death)

CHARLES CORLE HALL

Hall was born in Neshanic, N. J., and was of American parentage. Previous to entering Princeton he took a course in a business college, and worked in a store in Trenton, N. J. Not finding this work congenial, he decided to enter the ministry, and saved money for this end and studied under private instructors. In the fall of 1888 he entered Blairstown Academy, where he remained one year, taking a two years' course in one. In 1889 he entered Princeton with our class, remaining during Freshman year, but was forced to leave during the June examinations owing to an attack of typhoid. It was not until the following January that he was able to take up work again, at which time he joined the staff of the Trenton Times, continuing in this field until October, 1893, when he resigned to take the position of assistant secretary of the Trenton Y. M. C. A. In June of that year he was married to Miss Lizzie V. Stryker. In the following October he was stricken with the malady from which he died January 2, 1894.

At the time of his death he was assistant secretary of the Y. M. C. A., assistant superintendent of the Fifth Presbyterian Church Sunday-school, and vice-president of the Endeavor Local Union.

ANSON FORNEY HARROLD

(Taken shortly before death)

ANSON FORNEY HARROLD

Anson Forney Harrold, son of Daniel and Louisa Harrold, was born at Manor, Westmoreland County, Pa, March 10, 1870. He entered Franklin and Marshall College from Greensburg Academy in 1888, and was graduated with honor with the Class of 1891. While there he was a member of Franklin and Marshall's 'Varsity Football Team, and because of his splendid physical development was an important factor in the team's success. While here he became a member of the Diognothian Literary Society and of the Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity. In the fall of '91 he entered the Electrical School at Princeton University, graduating with the Class of '93, and while with us was active in athletics, being a member of '91 and '92 'Varsity Teams. Immediately after leaving Princeton he connected himself with the Westinghouse Electrical and Manufacturing Company of Pittsburgh, where during his five years' experience he acquired a reputation as a designing engineer and expert on the electrical qualities of metals. With this information he became one of the organizers of the Pittsburgh Transformer Company of Pittsburgh, where he remained for three years, when he organized and became President of the American Transformer Company of Newark, N. J., and with his skillful management developed a product which has become well known in every part of the country.

Harrold was married on September 12, 1893, to Miss Maude Hubley of Lancaster, Pa., who survives him with their daughter, Elisabeth.

For a year previous to his death he devoted all of his time to regaining his health, spending his last summer and fall in the Maine woods, and the winter at Camden, S. C. He, however, gradually failed, and on April 18, 1907, passed away.

Harrold was a member of the Munn Avenue Presbyterian Church of East Orange, N. J., of which city he was a resident, and of the Princeton Alumni Association of the Oranges.

JOSEPH ALBRIGHT HENRY
(Taken eleven years before death)

JOSEPH ALBRIGHT HENRY

Joseph Albright Henry was born at Oxford, N. J., December 7, 1872, and died at Kearny, N. J., May 2, 1904. He was descended from Robert and Mary Ann Henry, who came from the north of Ireland in 1722, and settled in Chester County, Pa. Joseph's great-great-grandfather, William Henry, of Lancaster, Pa., born 1728, died 1786, was a prominent citizen of Pennsylvania, having been armorer of the ill-fated Braddock expedition. He was a member of the Pennsylvania Legislature, Treasurer of Lancaster County, Commissary of the State of Pennsylvania during the Revolutionary War, and Member of Congress in 1784. He was the patron of Benjamin West, and the portraits of William Henry and his wife, by that artist, are now in Philadelphia in the possession of the Pennsylvania Historical Society.

Joseph's great-grandfather, William Henry, of Nazareth, Pa., born 1757, died 1821, was a manufacturer of guns, and was a Presidential Elector in 1792.

Joseph's grandfather, William Henry, of Wyoming, Pa., born 1794, died 1878, was one of the founders of Scranton, Pa., and was prominent in the development of that part of the State.

Joseph's father, Eugene Thomas Henry, born 1826, died 1883, was connected with the iron and steel industry of Scranton, Pa., and in 1865, with his brother-in-law, Selden T. Scranton, formed the Oxford Iron Company at Oxford, N. J., which company was engaged in the mining and smelting of iron ore, and the manufacture of cut nails.

Joseph's mother was Emma E. Walter of Nazareth, Pa., daughter of Philip Walter, a physician. Joseph went through the public school at Oxford, and by hard work prepared himself for college. After he was graduated from Princeton in 1893, he spent a year teaching at the Hillman Academy of Wilkes-Barre, Pa. He then went abroad and spent two years studying at the University of Leipsic, devoting his attention to modern languages. Upon his return he was engaged in tutoring and teaching in various preparatory schools, chiefly at Savannah, Ga. He was never in robust health, particularly after he was graduated from college. His death came suddenly May 2, 1904, and was followed May 15th, by the death of his brother, George S. Henry, at Buenos Ayres, Argentina, and on May 22d by the death of his brother, William Henry, at Punta Arenas, Chile. All three brothers are buried in the family plot at Belvidere, N. J.

Joseph is survived by his mother, his sister, Eugenia M. Henry, both residing at Attleboro, Mass., and by his brother, Philip Walter Henry, residing in New York.

He was unmarried.

CORTLANDT VAN R. HODGE

Cortlandt Van Rensselaer Hodge was the son of the Rev. Dr. Edward B. and Alice C. Van Rensselaer Hodge. He was born at Burlington, N. J., July 1, 1872.

Through his father he was related to a family distinguished in science and theology. His grandfather, Hugh Lenox Hodge, was a celebrated physician of Philadelphia, and a professor in the University of Pennsylvania.

On his mother's side he was descended from the Van Rensselaers, famous in the history of New York, his great-grandfather, Gen. Stephen Van Rensselaer, being one of the Dutch patroons ruling the feudal estate "Van Rensselaerwyck," which once comprised the region now forming the counties of Albany, Columbia and Rensselaer in New York State.

His mother died while he was quite young.

During his childhood and school days his father was pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Burlington, N. J. He attended school at Van Rensselaer Seminary, Burlington, where his rank was among the highest.

He entered Princeton with us, passing his examinations without conditions, and was first honor man in Freshman year, and a first group man throughout his course. His philosophy and his Christianity, while serious, were healthy, bright and happy.

After graduation he entered the Medical School of the University of Pennsylvania, and worked hard and faithfully to prepare himself for the service to which he intended to devote himself. During this time he lived with his father in Philadelphia.

At the University of Pennsylvania he joined the Psi Upsilon Fraternity, and was one of the leaders of his class. He was graduated in 1897 next to the head. Afterward he was elected a resident physician at the Presbyterian Hospital, one of the leading hospitals of Philadelphia. There he established a reputation for sympathy, character and professional ability to which patients, nurses, hospital authorities and visiting physicians gave glowing testimony.

CORTLANDT VAN R. HODGE

(Taken shortly before death)

On February 14, 1899, he married Miss Elsie Campbell Sinclair, a graduate of Bryn Mawr. A month after their marriage they left for China as missionary representatives of the Calvary Presbyterian Church, of Philadelphia.

They went to the mission station at Pao-ting-fu, where they began the study of the language, and, as his time from this study permitted, he began the practice of medicine and relief of the Chinese.

In the latter part of 1899 he, with some others, made a trip of about three hundred and fifty miles and return to prospect the country for a new mission station.

At Pao-ting-fu he was associated in medical work with Dr. George Yardley Taylor of the Class of 1882 of Princeton, who had preceded him as a medical missionary, and established a hospital. He continued his work there so successfully that his transfer to Pekin was being arranged in the spring of 1900.

At that time, however, internal dissensions arose in Chinese official circles, and anti-foreign feeling among the people broke out into attacks upon foreigners, causing what has since been known as the Boxer Insurrection.

On Saturday, June 30, 1900, a company of Boxers and a large crowd of ruffians attacked one of the gates of the mission compound, set it on fire, and then followed this up by firing the hospital and one of the dwellings. They then burned another gate and another dwelling. Dr. and Mrs. Hodge and Dr. Taylor fled to the house of Mr. and Mrs. Simcox, where they united in making a defense.

The crowd was kept off for a time by firearms, and some of them were killed, but at last the rabble prevailed. The faithful Chinese defenders in the compound were killed, the house in which the Americans had taken refuge was set on fire, and Dr. and Mrs. Hodge and all the others perished in the flames and destruction. At least they escaped falling into the hands of the Boxers.

PEARSALL HUMPHREY

(Taken about eleven years before death)

PEARSALL HUMPHREY

Humphrey was born in New York City, October 1, 1872. Both his father, William M. Humphrey, and his mother were of American descent. He prepared for Princeton at the Lima School, at Lima, N. Y., and entered our class at the beginning of Freshman year. At the end of six months he left to return to New York City and enter business with his father. Between the time of his leaving Princeton and that of his death he resided in New York and led a life of leisure after a short business career.

In the fall of 1898 he was attacked by pneumonia, from which he died November 8th.

He was unmarried.

HARRIS LINDSLEY

(Taken a few months before death)

HARRIS LINDSLEY

Harris Lindsley was born December 11, 1870, at Nashville, Tenn., son of Dr. Van Sinderen Lindsley and Lucy Harris Lindsley. Harris was descended from John Lindsley, one of the earliest settlers of the New Haven Colony of Connecticut, who, with his sons John and Francis, came from London, England, about 1640, and settled at Brandford, Conn. His great-uncle, Philip Lindsley, D.D., a distinguished educator and theologian, was vice-president of Princeton College from 1817 to 1822, when after Dr. Green's resignation he was one year acting president of Princeton College. Previous to 1817 he had been Professor of Languages at Princeton.

On his mother's side he was descended in a direct line in his Lindsley ancestry from John Alden and Priscilla. His great-uncle, Dr. Harvey Lindsley, of Washington, D. C., an eminent physician who lived to an advanced age, was long honored as the oldest living graduate of Princeton.

Harris received his preliminary education at Nashville, Tenn. He was prepared for college at the Princeton Preparatory School, and entered Princeton College in 1889, where he remained one year. He then attended Columbia Law School in New York City one year, and afterwards Columbian Law School, Washington, D. C., where he was graduated in 1894, with the degree of LL.M. After the completion of his education and his admission to the Bar of the District of Columbia in 1894, he entered the law offices of Webb & Webb, Washington, D. C., and soon became the junior partner, the firm being Webb, Webb & Lindsley.

At the outbreak of the Spanish War in 1898, he was appointed a Second Lieutenant by President McKinley in the Sixth United States Volunteer Infantry. He served with the regiment at Chickamauga Park and Porto Rico. During his service he was Judge Advocate of the General Court Martial, Post Treasurer, Commissary of Subsistence and Ordnance Officer. When the regiment was mustered out at Savannah, Ga., in March, 1899, he came to New York City with the grade of First Lieutenant to resume the practice of law in the office of Davies, Stone & Auerbach. Soon after coming to New York he became a member of Squadron A (cavalry) N. G. N. Y., later he was appointed a Second Lieutenant in the Twelfth Regiment N. G. N. Y. In 1903 he was promoted to a First Lieutenancy in the Twelfth Regiment, and just three weeks before his death he was promoted to a Captaincy in the Twelfth Regiment N. G. N. Y., to command Company A.

In 1900 he was the regular Democratic nominee for State Senator in the Fifteenth Assembly District. The district was a Republican stronghold, and he was defeated by his Republican opponent. Under the first administration of Mayor McClellan he was appointed Third Deputy Police Commissioner. He held this position up to the time of his death on August 14, 1905. He was a member of the Metropolitan Club and the Chevy Chase Club, of Washington, D. C., and the Princeton Club and the Strollers' Club of New York, Democratic Club of New York City, and Anawanda Club. He was a member of the Presbyterian Church.

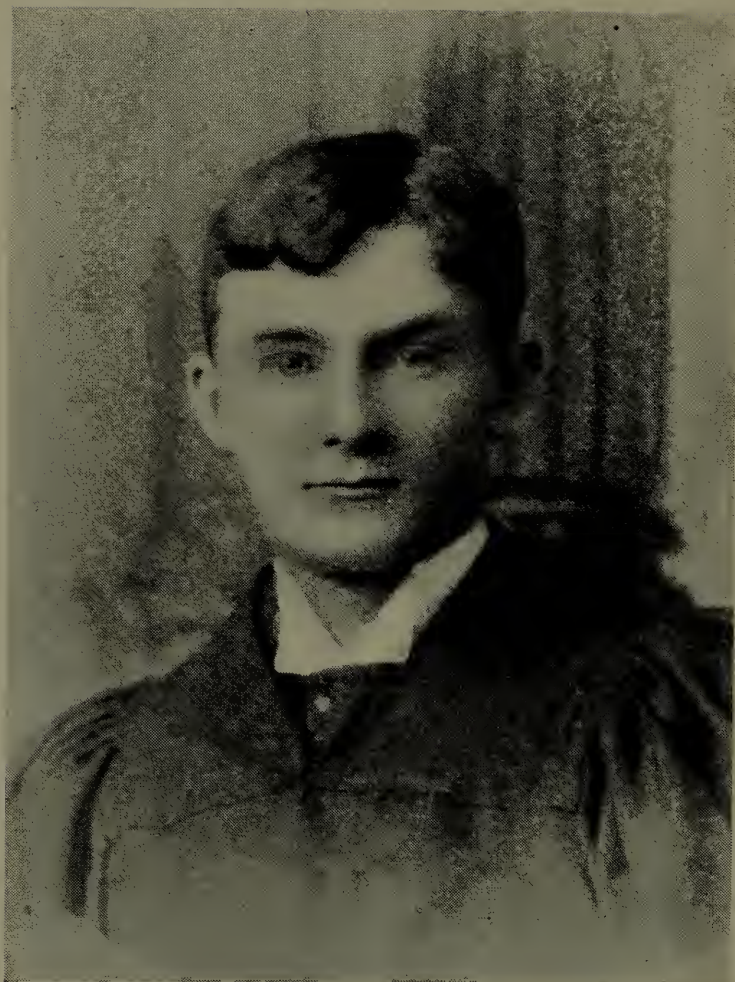

On July 13, 1905, a little more than a month before his death, his engagement to Miss Evelyn Pierrepont Willing, of Chicago, was announced.

On August 14, 1905, while near Bennington, Vt., traveling in an automobile with his fiancée, the automobile was struck by a train, both being instantly killed.

On August 16, 1905, the remains of Harris Lindsley were brought to New York, where he was accorded a public funeral, in which the Twelfth Regiment and the Police Department took part.

He and Miss Willing were buried side by side in Dellwood Cemetery at Manchester, Vt., on August 21, 1905.

LOREN MILL LUKE
(Taken five years before death)

LOREN MILL LUKE

Luke was born January 3, 1872, in Nanticoke, Pa., and was the only child of Sarah E. and Milmont Luke. He attended the public schools at Nanticoke until his thirteenth year, at which time he entered the Harry Hillman Academy, Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and was graduated June, 1889. In the fall of this year he entered with us a candidate for the degree of A.B. After graduation he moved from Nanticoke to Kingston, Pa. In the summer of 1893 he traveled in Europe, and in the fall he began to read law with Attorney Thomas Atherton, in Wilkes-Barre, and in 1895 was admitted at the bar of Luzerne County. He married Miss Emilie Loveland, of Kingston, Pa., November 28, 1896, and had one son, Loveland Luke, born October 21, 1897; died July 31, 1898. He and his wife spent the remainder of this summer in England, and lost their lives in the shipwreck of the "Mohegan" off the coast of England, October 14, 1898.

JOHN RANDOLPH McALPIN

(Taken two months before death)

JOHN RANDOLPH McALPIN

Randolph was one of the McAlpin family whose name has been so closely identified with Princeton's during the last twenty years. He was born June 23, 1870, his father being of Scotch descent, his mother a direct descendant of the old Stanton family of New England.

His preparatory education was received at the Lyon and Gilbert School of New York City; St. Paul's, Concord, N. H.; and Lawrenceville, N. J., in the order mentioned. He entered Princeton with '93 in the fall of '89, and took a special course in the Scientific School, being a member of the class until the time of his death, which occurred May 28, 1893, from typhoid fever. We all remember what a shock his death was to us just before graduation, and how we wore mourning for him during graduation week. During the four years that he was in college he took an active interest in lacrosse, and was one of the soloists of the Glee Club.

CARLETON SAYRE MATHER

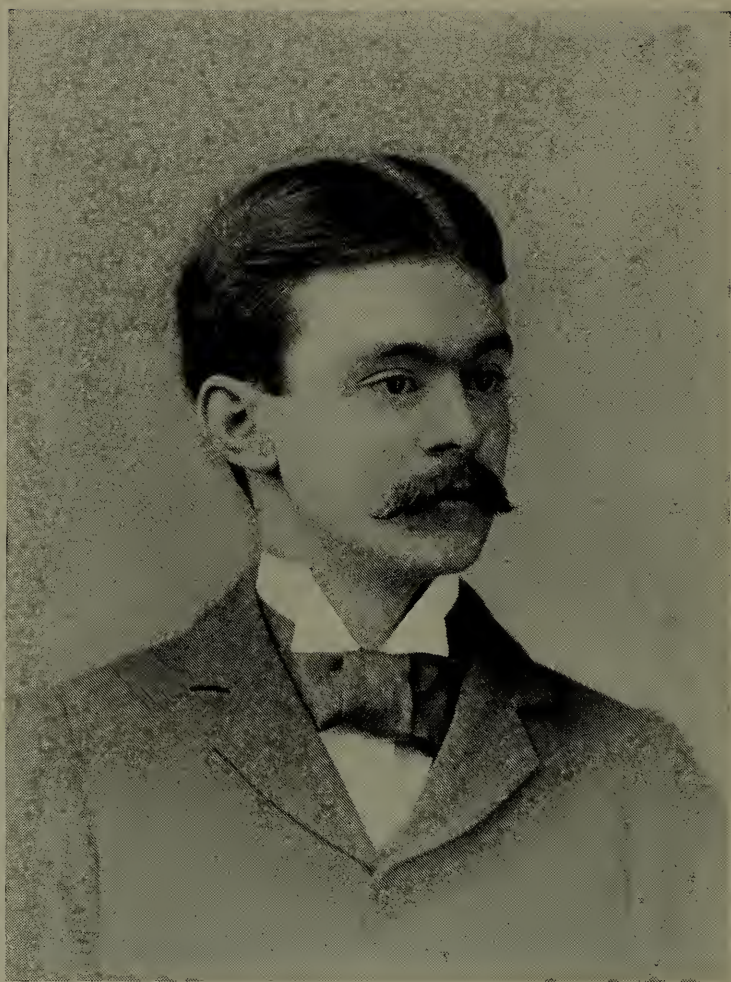

(Taken one year before death)

CARLETON SAYRE MATHER

Mather was born February 6, 1871. He entered Princeton with '93, and remained for the four years in the Civil Engineering School, but did not take his degree.

His preparatory education was received at the Wilson and Kellogg School in his native city, New York. In the fall of '93 "Min" commenced his business career with the firm of George Mather's Sons, manufacturers of printer's ink. Desiring to know something of the practical working of the business, he devoted his time to the factory, which was situated in Long Island City. That he might be nearer to his work he moved to Flushing, L. I., and made the trip in and out each day. This arduous life, coupled with business worries, undermined his health, and he fell ill from typhoid. After a nine days' illness he died in June, 1894.

At the time of his death he was engaged to be married.

CHRISTOPHER HOFFER MURRAY

(Taken nine years before death)

CHRISTOPHER HOFFER MURRAY

Murray was born September 5, 1869, in Centre Hall, Pa., and was of Irish descent through both father and mother. He received his early education in the public schools of his native town, and in 1888 qualified as a teacher in the school in which he had been taught. Two years later he entered Franklin and Marshall University, where he remained two years. He then came to Princeton, joining the Class of 1893 at the beginning of the Junior year, and finishing with us. After graduation he joined the reportorial staff of the New York Sun, studying for the bar at the same time. After a year and a half he returned to Pennsylvania and completed his law studies in the office of Gen. James Beaver at Bellefonte. After passing his examinations he started practicing his profession in Philadelphia, and shortly married Miss Bard of Reading, Pa. In 1899 his health became undermined, and he went to Colorado, where he remained for two years. Not being benefited by the change, he returned to Centre Hall for seven months, at the end of which time he succumbed to tuberculosis of the lungs, dying February 21, 1902. He was buried at Reading, Pa.

WALTER THOMAS NOBLE

(Taken shortly before death)

WALTER THOMAS NOBLE

Walter T. Noble was born in Topeka, Kan., November 15, 1872. He attended the public schools until thirteen years of age, then the preparatory department of Washburn College for two years, after which he entered Graylock Institute in South Williamstown, Mass., to prepare for Williams College. He graduated from that institute in the Class of 1889, and deciding he preferred Princeton to Williams, in the fall of 1889, at the age of seventeen, he entered with us, graduating with the class in 1893. He was a member of the Princeton Glee Club for three years.

After graduation Walter was employed in the office of the Trust Company of America in Topeka for two years, then engaged in the insurance business, first as local agent and later as special agent for Kansas and Missouri. In 1902, in pursuance of a long-considered plan, he located in Atchison, Kan., to become superintendent of an oatmeal and cereal mill. He superintended the building of the mill, placing the machinery, etc., but suddenly sickened and died, just three days before the mill was ready for operation, from hemorrhagic purpura.

Noble was married to Miss Jessie Small of Topeka, Kan., in October, 1896. They had three children: Walter T. Noble, Jr., born in Topeka, January 8, 1899; John Small Noble, born in Atchison, Kan., July 7, 1903, and George Milton Noble 3d, born in Atchison, Kan., August 10, 1904, eight days after his father's death.

His father, George M. Noble, of Topeka, was of English descent, and was not a college graduate, though a student at Depauw University for a time.

His mother was Miss Eva Reed, of Fredericktown, Ohio. She was of Scotch descent, and a graduate of the Woman's College of Illinois. Walter's wife is of German descent. She was educated in the public schools of Topeka and in the Walnut Lane School of Chestnut Hill, near Philadelphia, and is now living with her three children in Minneapolis, Minn.

CHARLES WILLIAMS OTTLEY

(Taken a short time before death)

CHARLES WILLIAMS OTTLEY

Charles Williams Ottley died at Johns Hopkins Hospital May 8, 1907.

Dr. Ottley was a man of distinguished intellect and culture, devoting his life to equipment for his profession, and he had every advantage for scientific research and experience afforded in this country and abroad. He was thirty-six years of age, having been born in Columbus, Miss., February 21, 1871. He was the second son of Colonel John King Ottley, and is survived by his mother, Mrs. E. G. McCabe, and two brothers, John K. Ottley and Ernest G. Ottley. He was graduated with us, and later as M.D. from Johns Hopkins. After graduating from Princeton he taught for two years in the Boys' High School in Atlanta, Ga. After leaving Johns Hopkins he traveled one year in the interest of the student volunteer work, going from college to college enlisting young men as medical missionaries.

He then served two years in the New York City Hospital, Blackwell's Island. From thence he went to Constantinople as resident physician and Professor of Biology in Robert College, an institution maintained by the Presbyterian Church. Here he came in contact with young men of thirteen nationalities.

Later he went farther into Asia Minor to take charge of a hospital at Marsavan. Here his life was very hard, and feeling the need of a change he devoted a year to special research work in his profession in Vienna, Leipzig and London. In the autumn of 1906 he returned to America to regain his health, and with the determination of establishing his residence in Atlanta. His condition did not improve; several months spent in New Mexico failed to restore him, and a few weeks later he went to Johns Hopkins for treatment, where he died.

During his college days Ottley was a noted track athlete, having won many medals and broke the United States intercollegiate record for walking. He was an honorary member of the New York Athletic Club.

He was a devoted member of the Presbyterian Church, and from a lad had lived only for service to others. He was not married.

JOHN BRENT PALMER

Jack Brent Palmer was born on the 5th of July, 1873, in Louisville, Ky.

His father, grandfather and great-grandfather, all of whom were physicans, were born in Vermont, and were of English descent.

His father, after receiving a high school education, being unable to go to College on account of the Civil War, entered the medical department of University of Louisville, receiving the degree of M.D. in 1863.

His mother, Lucy Brent, was born in Paris, Ky. Her father and grandfather were Virginians, the family being of Scotch-English descent.

After Brent was graduated from Princeton he returned home, and in the fall of '93 entered the medical department of the University of Louisville, and received the degree of M.D. March 30, 1896.

He was appointed by the Faculty Clinical Assistant to the Chair of Genito-Urinary Diseases as soon as he was graduated, and held this position until his death.

In November, 1896, he was appointed City Physician of the western district of Louisville.

Brent had always a love for military life; before going to Princeton he was a member of the First Kentucky Regiment, known as the Louisville Legion.

When he came back from college he again joined, and by request was assigned to the hospital corps as a private.

After a year's course in medicine he was made hospital steward, and when he received his degree he was promoted to the rank of Lieutenant and Assistant Surgeon.

In the spring of 1898 war was declared against Spain, and on the President's call for volunteers, the First Kentucky Regiment was among the first to answer, and Brent was commissioned by the United States as Major and Surgeon of the First Kentucky Volunteers, one of the youngest, if not the youngest, major-surgeons, being not quite twenty-five years of age.

JOHN BRENT PALMER
(Taken a few years before death)

The regiment remained in camp at Chickamauga until the latter part of the summer, when it was ordered to Porto Rico.

They arrived in Porto Rico just one day after the signing of the protocol, and so did not have any active service.

For the medical department, however, there was an abundance of work, and in this Brent showed such marked executive ability as well as scientific knowledge that he was placed in charge of the division hospital by the commanding officer of the island.

The regiment returned to Louisville the twelfth day of December, 1898, and was mustered out of the United States service in February.

Brent then resumed his private practice and his work as city physician.

In November, 1900, he was appointed physician to the Eruptive Hospital of Louisville. His stay in the tropics had, however, undermined his health. While there he suffered from dysentery and malaria, and, in fact, never did get rid of these diseases.

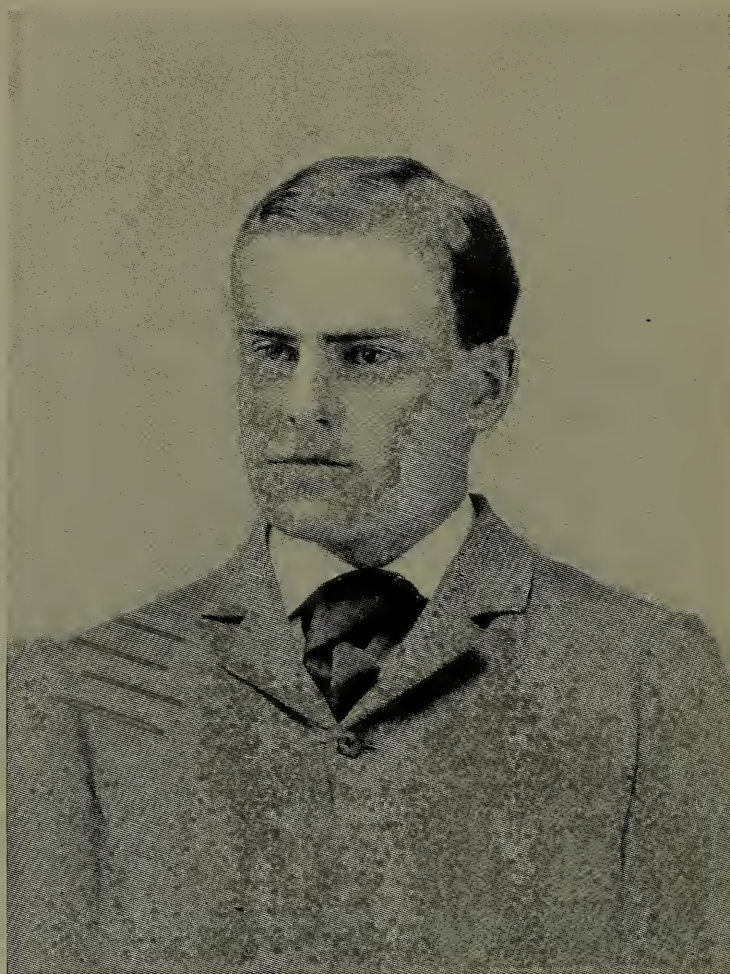

In the summer of 1901 he visited his mother at her place on the coast of Long Island, and was greatly benefited by his stay of two months there.

His return to a southern climate and the resumption of his professional duties soon brought back his trouble, and from day to day throughout the winter 1901-1902 he became weaker and weaker.

In the spring of 1902 he took a short trip East, returning by way of St. Louis. He decided to stay in St. Louis for a while, and for a few weeks became much better.

About the first of July he became decidedly worse, and passed away in St. Louis July 12, 1902.

He was not married.

CHARLES HODGE STOCKTON

(Taken several years before death)

CHARLES HODGE STOCKTON

Charles Hodge Stockton was born in Princeton, N. J., January 16, 1871. He was prepared for college at the Princeton Preparatory School and by private tutors. His family on both sides were old American stock. His father, Col. Samuel W. Stockton, entered Princeton, but left to join the United States army.

Charlie entered with us Freshman year, but left in November, 1891, to practice engineering. He worked at his profession with the Pennsylvania Railroad for some time, and then in building trolley lines in the South. He went to Nicaragua on the Government Canal Survey, where he spent several months in perfect health. On his return he was employed by the Government in Washington, D. C., on work in connection with the Panama Canal. He was shortly sent back to Nicaragua, when he soon fell a victim to a fever from which he died December 12, 1899.

EDWARD YEOMANS THORP
(Taken about two years before death)

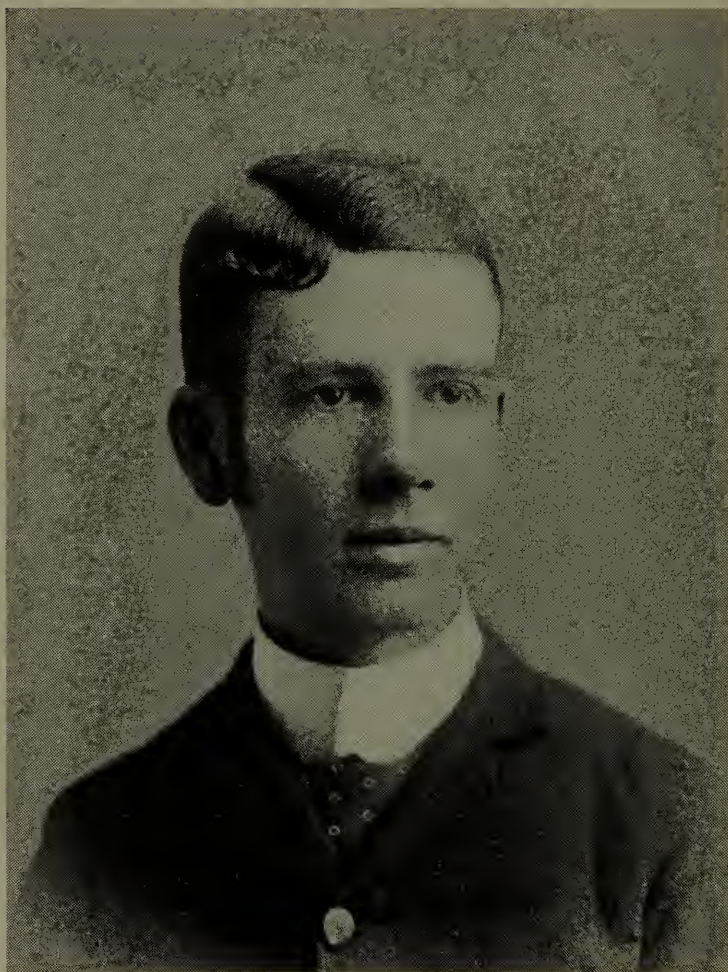

EDWARD YEOMANS THORP

Thorp prepared for Princeton at the Hill School after a few years spent at the Sedgewick Institute. He entered with the class in '89, and remained during the entire four years. He was born November 3, 1871, at East Orange, N. J., and was of English descent.

After graduation he was affiliated with the publishing business, establishing the firm of Thorp & Holbrook at 156 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

In 1898 he joined the Seventy-first Regiment of New York two or three days before they left the city for the Spanish War. On the return of his company to this country he obtained "sick leave," and was taken to the Presbyterian Hospital suffering from a fever contracted while at the front. He never rallied, however, and died September 3, 1898, as much a martyr for his country as if he had fallen on the battlefield.

He was unmarried.

WILLIAM FERGUSON TYSON

(Taken shortly before death)

WILLIAM FERGUSON TYSON

Tyson, who was with us only Freshman year, was born March 2, 1871, in Columbia, Pa., where his father was engaged in the manufacture of boilers.

He attended the local schools, and entered Princeton with the intention of studying for the ministry. Ill health, however, prevented his following this plan, and in June, 1890, he gave up his studies and returned to Columbia to engage in business. March 31, 1892, he died from his ailment.

GEORGE EMMONS WHITE

(Taken shortly before death)

GEORGE EMMONS WHITE

White was born June 12, 1871, at the United States Navy Yard, Philadelphia, Pa. His early years were spent in Princeton, N. J., and at the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md. One year he spent in China and Japan, and later made a cruise to Europe on board the United States Ship Portsmouth, commanded by his father, then Captain White. His father was the late Rear Admiral Edwin White, U. S. N., a native of Ohio. His mother was the daughter of Rear Admiral George F. Emmons, U. S. N. On both sides of his family he was descended from men whose names stand prominent among the soldiers and statesmen in Colonial history. At the age of eighteen he entered Princeton, taking the full academic course, and was graduated with us. In September of that year he entered the New York Law School, was graduated two years later, and admitted to the New York Bar, and began his professional career in the office of William Allan Butler. After practicing law for five years he gave it up for journalism. His work in this field met with success and rapid promotion.

For seven years he was connected with the business department of the New York World, being recognized as one of the foremost advertising men of the city. He married, in 1900, Mrs. Charles G. Toland, widow of Dr. Toland, of San Francisco. She died in 1903, leaving no children. The valvular lung trouble, from which he died on October 17, 1907, was congenital, his general health, however, was so good that only occasionally did his trouble assert itself. Two winters ago the compensation of his heart was seriously disturbed by a severe attack of bronchitis, and he went for rest and treatment in April to the Presbyterian Hospital in New York City. After being there two months he recovered sufficiently to leave town, and joined his family in the Blue Ridge Mountains. In August he was obliged to return to the hospital.

This period of withdrawal from active life, and especially the last month of his illness, was marked by the utmost cheerfulness, patience and courage. He died October 7, 1907.

He was a member of the Calumet and Princeton Clubs of New York, and the Nassau Club of Princeton.

WILLIAM BUTLER WOODBRIDGE

(Taken a few months before death)

WILLIAM BUTLER WOODBRIDGE

William Butler Woodbridge was born in Chicago, January 5, 1870. His father, John Woodbridge, a lawyer of marked ability, and a member of the old Massachusetts Puritan family of that name, was born in 1829, at Hadley, Mass., and was graduated from Amherst with the Class of '49. Within a very few years he married Miss Elizabeth Butler, of Stuyvesant, N. Y.

William Butler Woodbridge, the youngest of their five children, inherited from his father the stern qualities of the English Puritan, and from his mother the humor of the Irish. A noteworthy combination of characteristics, all of which contributed to make Woodbridge the remarkable man he was for years before his death.

Practically all of us remember him as he was in the old days at "The Burg"—irresponsible, manly, serious, boyish, by turns, but always lovable. Comparatively few, probably, know what a great, broad, far-seeing, transacting man he grew to be.

Shortly after leaving Princeton he formed a partnership with R. M. Mullen in the contracting business in Chicago. This firm was maintained for several years, during which period it constructed a number of buildings, among them a large factory in North Chicago.

Their success, however, did not come up to the hopes of the partners, and the firm was dissolved. Then followed several years of civil engineering, railroad and tunnel construction, in Kentucky and South Dakota, as well as Chicago.

None of these occupations seemed to call forth the best that was in him, but when, some five years after leaving college, he turned his attention to life insurance, he found a field of endeavor in which was ample room for the full exercise of his unusual mental powers and truly dynamic energy. A year of soliciting and "writing life insurance" for a small Western company, with his headquarters in Pittsburg, was filled also with study of the science of insurance. A new and big idea began to take shape in his mind.

In 1899 Woodbridge moved East with his family. He had married on June 24, 1894, Mrs. Hazel Pratt Garfield, of Chicago, who had then a baby son. The following year William Butler Woodbridge, Jr., was born. They settled for a time in Springfield, Mass., where he established his headquarters as general agent for New England of the Bankers' Life Insurance Company of New York. And here he set about putting into effect his big idea.

For decades life insurance companies had been doing business on a very wasteful basis of expenditures for commissions. A general agent, having exclusive charge of any given territory, was paid by his company not only a very large commission on the first year's premium, but also a commission of, say, ten per cent. of every succeeding premium (called a renewal commission) paid on every policy written in his territory, as long as it should remain in force.

It is obvious that the sum of these renewal commissions on the entire business of any company is a considerable percentage of its premium income. It is as certain to accrue as the premium income itself, being a part of it. And, inasmuch as life insurance is, first and last, purely a matter of scientific averages, the degree of that certainty is readily calculable.

Now, briefly, what Woodbridge did was to see that the present value of a lot of these renewal commissions could therefore be ascertained and capitalized. This perception enabled him by September, 1902, to start the Columbian National Life Insurance Company, of Boston, with only $220,000 of capital and surplus, and of course no business; and to give it such an impetus that four and a quarter years later, December 31, 1906, this company had insurance policies outstanding of over $49,000,000. Some idea of the magnitude of this feat is conveyed by the statement that no twelve companies combined ever did so much in the same periods of their several existences.

These results were made possible chiefly by the plan of putting all the business through a single, corporate agency which assigned all renewal commissions thereon to a securities' company in return for the latter company's shares of stock on an agreed basis. These shares being sold not only produced funds to finance the writing of insurance, but naturally every shareholder became a "booster" of the insurance company.

As long as Woodbridge's ideas were carried out his company went steadily ahead. His untimely death, due to the overturning of an automobile in which he was riding on the night of June 14, 1905, ended his career that had started so brilliantly and was leading him steadily onward.

ENRIQUE YBANEZ
(Taken two months before death)

ENRIQUE YBANEZ

Ybanez was born in Mexico, November 20, 1869, and was of Spanish descent.

After preparing in several local schools he entered with us in 1889 a candidate for the degree of C.E. On being graduated he returned to Mexico, and divided his time between his home in Mexico and his hacienda.

He died of pneumonia January 15, 1896. He had engaged in no vocation, and was unmarried.

VITAL STATISTICS

Living	188
Deceased	27
*Listed with other classes.....	5

220

Graduated with class.....	152
Left class before graduation.....	47
Specials	14

*215

Married	152
Single	63

Number married having children.....	119
Number married having one child.....	46
Number married having two children.....	32
Number married having three children.....	25
Number married having four children.....	8
Number married having five children.....	3
Number married unaccounted.....	5

Average age at graduation, twenty-two years.

VOCATIONS

Law	45	Teaching	14
Medicine	19	Author	3
Ministry	16	Architect	1
Engineers	12	Leisure	6
Military	1	Business	71

* The five listed with other classes are not counted in the statistics.

GEOGRAPHICAL REPRESENTATION

New York.....	45	Illinois	4
Pennsylvania	41	Colorado	4
New Jersey.....	23	Maryland	3
Foreign	13	Washington, D. C.....	3
Massachusetts	11	Kentucky	3
Ohio	9	Michigan	3
Missouri	5	Louisiana	2
California	4	Georgia	2
New Mexico.....			2

Florida, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Mississippi, Nebraska, Nevada, North Carolina, Oregon, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Wisconsin, each one member.

In order to keep the Class Records accurate and up to date, it is essential that the Secretary be promptly notified by the members of all matters relating to themselves along the lines indicated upon the above list; it is hoped that this will be construed as a continuing and urgent request to each member of the class for such information.

GEORGE C. FRASER, Secretary,
1 Nassau Street, New York City.

JUL 27 1908

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS

0 020 773 714 8